Things Are Looking Up

Maple Trail '89

All photos by Dr. Robert Doty

On a beautiful September day, sunshine radiates on the campus proving that "Things Are Looking Up."

Things Are Looking Up

Maple Trail '89
Campbellsville College
Volume LXI

Table of Contents

6 Features

FEATURES is an in-depth look at some of the unique things that make college students the way they appear. Cars are a symbol of status to the average student while others depend heavily on the fashionable aspect of being a student. This section also contains things that students like to do in their spare time.

24 Events

EVENTS is a section dedicated to a look at what happened on the campus, beginning with the President's Reception and ending with the Spring Formal. This section also contains all of the unique things that happened between, like: Freshman Week, Football Homecoming, Fall Carnival, Valentine Pageant, plays, and others.

42 Sports

SPORTS is a look at the dedication of our athletic teams and their coaches. The look starts with the Fall Sports and works its way through to the athletic events that happened in the Spring months. Each team accomplished a great deal throughout its season and the accomplishments will be discussed in more detail.

78 People

PEOPLE is an in-depth glance at what makes the campus thrive, its student body, faculty, and staff. This section is an account of who was on the campus, their classification of either freshman, sophomore, etc., and who graduated from this college and what degree they received for their efforts.

126 Organizations

ORGANIZATIONS is a glance at the various clubs that were offered to every college student no matter what their race was or what religion they practiced. The section also shows a few of the things that each club participates in every year; things ranging from competitiveness to being helpful to those needing help.

Left: Dr. and Mrs. Winters entertain during the Homecoming Banquet. Below: Dr. Winters speaks to the crowd assembled at the banquet.

Above: Mrs. Winters smiles for the camera. Right: D and Mrs. Winters wave to the parade on-lookers.

Dedication

At the beginning of the 1988-1989 calendar school year, many people finally got the chance for which they had waited all summer long — they met the new President of Campbellsville College. Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Winters came to us from Murray where Dr. Winters held a position at the state university.

The Winters' have already changed a lot of things for the better on the college campus, and there are high hopes for plenty more good things to come in the future.

The 1989 Maple Trail is dedicated to Dr. and Mrs. Ken Winters. They have already proven that "Things Are Looking Up" for the students at Campbellsville College. Hopefully, this book will provide many pleasant memories for Dr. and Mrs. Winters as, through the years, you look back at this book and remember the good times that were shared.

Things Are Looking Up

In August of 1988, things began to look up for Campbellsville College. The 1988-89 school year began on a positive note. Upon returning to school, students found things in a much more improved aspect than when they had gone home in May. For a beginning, there was a new college president and first lady, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Winters. Dr. Winters introduced to the faculty and students several new proposals that would occur in the future to make the college campus a better place to live and attend school.

Then, on October 11, tragedy struck. One of our classmates and dearly beloved friends died. Christy Marcum passed away as the result of an accident. To say the least, shock enveloped the campus. After a period of mourning, things began to get back to normal. Christy was gone but she always remained in the heart of the school.

"Things Are Looking Up" was the name chosen for the 1989 Maple Trail. Several things were considered but the final name was chosen after great thought. Campbellsville College was definitely beginning to look up for the better. There are great hopes and expectations planned for the future. October was an all-time low but, gradually, things did get better. The theme was chosen because of the great expectations of the things to come in the future and because things were beginning to look up.

While looking through the pages, I hope you remember the highlights and the good times at the school. As will be seen on the pages, the book is dedicated to Dr. and Mrs. Ken Winters and completed in loving memory of Miss Christy Marcum. Even so, I hope that you like the way the book has been styled to keep up with the theme, "Things Are Looking Up."

— Kathy Akridge
Editor-in-Chief

All photos by Dr. Robert Doty

During the Fall, the campus is brightly colored with the changing of the seasons. These pictures show the campus at the height of this season. Fall gives us a promising hope of what is coming in the future. It is also a symbol of change, which tells us that things will get better and that "Things Are Looking Up."

Representing McDonald's, the "Moon Man" beams at the parade on-lookers. McDonald's is one of many favorite places to eat in town.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Things Are Looking Up in Features

Cruisin'

To the average college students, cars were as much of an individual statement about one's self as were the clothes one chose to wear. Automobiles took on a whole new meaning once a person got to college; because how well you took care of your car showed a pride in yourself.

Automobiles had developed their own "art," which was "cruisin'." Several different types of automobiles adorned the college campus. There were sports cars, such as Cavalier Z24s and Nissan Pulsar NXs, but there were also more economical cars such as Chevettes and Mustangs. In the truck family, Ford Rangers were a big hit along with the Chevrolet tradition, also, the Ford Bronco and the Jimmy put in an appearance.

College students used their mode of transportation for several things. Among the favorites were: to go for drives, recreational purposes, and to go home. But whatever the reason, students did one thing — "Cruised, in style."

While waiting on its owner to return, Becky Smith's Chevrolet Cavalier Z24 adds a festive touch to the Tiger Baseball Field.

All photos by Kathy Aldridge

Sleek and shiny, Tracy Compton's new Nissan Pulsar NX brightens the lane while sitting in front of the dorm.

Sharp trucks became an "in" thing this year and Jim Sears' Ford Ranger is an excellent example.

Bold in black, David Stewart's Mazda RX7 makes an unforgettable impression to the beholder.

Getting ready to go to practice, Brian Saylor and Chad Williams pose with Saylor's Camaro.

Ready to cruise, Ron Sams' Nissan Maxima waits while Ron does business at the local bank.

What's in Style

Torn jeans, hi-top Bluchers, Swatch watches, gold jewelry, flat tops, and Gumby haircuts were just a few of the stylish fads that developed over the year. Of course, students liked to be "in" so many acquired the new styles into their wardrobe. But, there were always the basics that never went out of style: sweatshirts, T-shirts, jeans, and tennis shoes.

Many students had a lot of the same styles but personal preference also came through as a style of its own. If a person were asked to sum up the typical wardrobe by using a single word, the person would probably answer with "Individuality." Students began to show their independence simply because they started wearing what suited them the best; they used their wardrobe as a form of self-expression.

Nonetheless, whether it was the style of the group or the style of the individual, all students showed good taste in clothing and also showed what was in style.

While posing for the camera, Freshmen Heather Arnold, Sharon Thomas, and Monica Flanagan show the latest craze designed for hair.

Photo courtesy of Sharon Thomas

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

On one of the gloomier days of the season, Seniors Wendy Chesser and Cindy Crowder display their rain attire.

Photo by Faith Nkosi

Showing off the latest additions to her wardrobe, Sophomore Y'Vette Williams takes a break from classes on the bench by Stapp Hall.

Photo by Lisa Harden

Photo by Y'Vette Williams

With the acquired "studious" look, Junior Vernon Billups concentrates on his homework. In the meantime, Sophomore Keith Lewis struts his stuff in a sharp denim jacket, which was a style of the season and Sophomore Faith Nkosi sports the newest look in Winter attire.

Carrying a load of books, Senior Richie Kessler displays the "casual look" while going to the library to study.

Tiger Fans

"Loyal" and "devoted" were two words that were used to animatedly describe the fans from Campbellsville College.

The school year 1988-89 was an all new beginning for Tiger Spirit. The football team actually got the year off to a good start; they began the yearly ritual by starting their season. In turn, when their season was completed, the football team showed their Tiger Spirit by supporting the other athletic teams.

"School spirit. And because I figured if I got a Tiger Paw tattoo on my ankle I'd have to work hard on my grades. I can't flunk out because I have devoted myself to this school," stated Herbie Wiseman. Herbie is a freshman football player from Ft. Myers, Florida.

Campbellsville College attire was an addition to the Tiger Spirit. Unique shirts, shorts, and pants added to the wardrobe of many students and faculty. Other schools knew when Tiger Fans arrived because a rush of "Maroon" was seen walking through the doors.

Eric Graves best summarized the Tiger Fans by saying, "I thought the fans were really supportive. Even to the point that at ballgames, we had more fans than the home team did." Now that's school spirit from fans — Tiger Fans.

Photos by Dr. Robert Doty

Photo by Ayo Olanipan

Top: Supporting the Tigers is a favorite pastime for mascot, Melissa Sprowls, and Tiger cheerleaders, Pat Combs and Susan Bennett. Above: Tiger Football fans pack the stands to watch the Homecoming Football game. Left: Devoted football fanatics, Y'Vette Williams, Susie Crowder, Sharon Thomas, Cindy Crowder, Kathy Akridge, and Faith Nkosi, display the "support signs" that were made for the team.

Left: After a good play during a basketball game, Brian Saylor and Kenny Monnette show their support for the referee. Below: Going hog wild, the Lady Tiger fans show that we are "Number One" during the Lady Tiger vs. Brescia game being played at Brescia in Owensboro.

Totally Tiger, Herbie Wiseman and Brad Baxter point to Herbie's latest show of school spirit, a Tiger Paw tattoo.

Photos by Yolanda Cottrell

After-hours the students found a way to relax and . . .

Goofin' Off

A college student's life was never boring. After all of the studying, taking tests, and completing the homework assignments a student needed to take time off and relax.

There were various ways to sit back and put up your feet. Many students chose to go to the movies while others preferred to invade the bowling alley. There were also intramural games and sporting competitions to keep the avid sports fan happy.

Other places of interest included the lake and the roller rink. Several students chose to do the "usual", which included shopping and going out to get a bite to eat at one of the local restaurants. While others just sat back and watched television or horsed around in the game room. But, no matter what, students found a way to sit back, relax, and goof off.

Taking time out from the baseball schedule, Larry Lipker and Brian Alexander spend time with the "Clydesdales."

Photo by Tammy Statom

Photo by Bobby Raley

Resting up before the game with Tennessee Wesleyan, Tammy Statom, Joe Neal Finley, and Jeff Shirley take it easy.

Cooling off at the oceanside, the members of the Lady Tiger basketball Team find the time to goof off and have fun by building a pyramid.

Photo by Donna Wise

Hammin' it up for the camera, Freshman Samantha Finley finishes preparing to go to the football stadium.

During one late-night expedition, Lori Walker, Jennifer Martin, and Jennifer Hazlewood goof off in Lisa Harden's room.

DORM LIFE

Living in the dorm provided a student with a different perspective on living. Students often arrived on campus to realize that they would be living with a person that they had never met. This provides students the opportunity to make friends and share beliefs and religions with fellow students.

Dorm life was often scary. There were new experiences that all students had to encounter. For example, the dreaded fire alarm.

"It was hilarious! Nobody heard the alarm. People were sleeping and taking showers. Nobody knew it was the fire alarm. Somebody had accidentally burned some popcorn in the microwave and it set off the alarm. We all decided not to let him use the microwave anymore," stated Mosi Tafao about a fire alarm sounding off at South Hall early in the school year.

Life in the dormitory was not all work and no play. Parties and other good times often prevailed throughout the dorm. Talking, singing, and dancing were a few of the favorites to be done in the dorms. One thing was for sure; there was nothing else like it. Nothing could even begin to compare to "Dorm Life."

Photo by Kathy Akridge

Photo by Yolanda Cottrell

Photo by Jana Moore

Top: Horsing around before the beginning of the football game at Evansville, Susie Crowder, Y'Vette Williams, Faith Nkosi, and Tammy Statom have some fun. Above: Posing before leaving for the Lady Tiger game at Brescia, Kathy Akridge and Julie May smile because they have quickly become close friends. Left: Bear hugs are an "in" thing as displayed by friends Ginger High and Jackie Prather.

Walking from class, Lee Proctor and Byron Copeland have used living in the dorm as an opportunity to make good friends and classmates.

Relaxing outside the dorm, T. J. Strevals and Debbie Martin take advantage of the glorious afternoon.

Workin' or Goofin' Off?

In the Merriam-Webster Dictionary, "work" is defined as "toil, labor, task, or job." However, in the same book, the word "fun" is defined as "something that provides amusement or enjoyment." But no matter what the word was defined as, the students found a way to mingle the two together during the time spent together at the campus.

Throughout the day, students were supposed to attend their classes, some of which were very boring. But, there were a few faculty members that didn't like for their class to be boring, Ms. Barbara Kottke was one of these people. She kept her students involved, literally, in her class. The students had active discussions and played games and listened to music while Ms. Kottke had class. That was one way that the students had fun in the classroom. Another thing was that the students made the class interesting, that was by either (cont. on pg. 20)

During class, freshman Kelly Vincent talks with Dr. Milton Rogers about the texture of this plant.

All photos courtesy of PR

Having some fun at work, these students take time out from putting on labels to pose for the camera.

Taking time out from the daily routine of classes, senior Deborah Vincent and junior Terry
Tipton enjoy the day at Miller Park.

pretending they were somewhere else or by associating their lesson with a topic that was better understood or easier to comprehend.

After classes, some students had to go to work, the real job. This was where one had to do everything from paperwork to running errands to closing up the gymnasium at night.

These jobs were "the real thing" as one received money for what they were doing at work. These jobs were many times not hard tasks but were often time consuming.

However, after all of that was done, students often found time to sit back and relax. That could be done in a person's dorm room, or the rec room, or the gym, or walking on campus, or sitting outside enjoying the scenery.

Throughout the course of the day, one found the average college student in the classroom or in the dorm room. When seeing them, one saw them enjoying themselves, and it was hard to tell if they were "Workin' or Goofin' Off."

Working hard in the rec room, these freshmen pass the time relaxing in their own way.

Cleaning up one of the offices, these students pass the time doing their jobs together.

All photos courtesy of PR

In between their classes, David Stewart and Pam Tungate get together and discuss the latest happenings on campus.

Intently listening to her instructor, Jo Lynn Shipp and her peers concentrate on the lecture of the day.

All photos by Dr. Robert Doty

Enjoying the yuletide season, these members of the faculty and their guests enjoy the time together and the time of relaxation.

Feasting upon the dinner meal, students enjoy the time of togetherness that comes from "Christmas Celebration."

Happily posing for the camera, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Mobley enjoy the festivities.

Christmas Celebration

Christmas decorations adorned the gymnasium in honor of the glorious celebration of Christmas.

Anxious for the next activity, Dean and Mrs. Robert Clark smile because of the wonderful occasion.

The evening of December 1, proved to be an enjoyable evening for the students and faculty of Campbellsville College. That was the night that everyone met in the gymnasium to hold our annual "Christmas Celebration."

The event started off with dinner, which was prepared by the college's food service program. After dinner, there were speakers, plays, skits, songs, and a whole lot of fun. The occasion was a semi-formal event where the students were asked to dress in nice clothes.

Several unique things happened that night, one of which being the Christmas story being read to the younger children in the audience by Mrs. Winters. Another event was the prayer given by Faith Nkosi in her native South African language. Then, of course, one couldn't forget the appearance of Santa Claus before the conclusion of the evening spent together.

Every year the college family gets together to celebrate the Christmas season, the birth of Christ. That enables the college to grow closer together and to celebrate a special time of the year with one another. Then, after all of the things were finished in the gym, everyone congregated in front of the girls' dorm and sang Christmas carols and lit the college's Christmas tree. That finished a perfect evening in a perfect way.

Awaiting the arrival of Santa Claus, these children patiently sit until he arrives.

Riding in the Homecoming Parade, Queen Kathlin McCann prepares to hand down her crown during one of the "Events" of the season.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Things Are Looking Up in Events

All photos courtesy of PR

Shaking hands with Coach and Mrs. Finley, Dr. and Mrs. Winters greet their guests at the Winters' first President's Reception.

President's Reception

Speaking to some of the students, President Ken Winters explains in detail the future of the college.

On the night of September 13, 1988, President and Mrs. Ken Winters were honored at their first President's Reception. The event is an annual event, but this was our new president's first year at Campbellsville College.

The President's Reception is an event that everyone is invited to be present for. The occasion is a dress up occasion in which one honors the president by showing up at Montgomery Library. After going through the library's doors, an individual is required to register and receive a name tag. Then one stood among their peers and waited in line to shake hands and meet the President and Mrs. Winters along with the members of the faculty and their spouses. After the pleasure of meeting them is over, there is a reception where everyone socializes together and discusses the latest things, such as: class schedules, work study jobs, etc.

All in all, the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. For the members of the Freshman Class, the reception was just another tradition of the college that they will have to get used to. For the upperclassmen, it was a time to get reacquainted with the professors and to meet the new president. For the faculty, it was a time to meet their pupils and to see the members of the newest class. However, for Dr. and Mrs. Winters, it was a time to meet the student body of the college and to get to know the students by name and to let them know they're happy they're here.

Presidential Inauguration

The Beginning of a New Era

When a president gets inaugurated, either the President of the United States, the president of a company, or the president of a college, that normally signifies the ending of the old and the beginning of the new.

That is exactly what happened when students, faculty, staff, and other high officials in the community and state gathered together at Campbellsville Baptist Church to participate in the inauguration of our new president, Dr. Ken Winters.

Dr. Winters came to Campbellsville from Murray State University with high hopes for the future of the college. Several projects were immediately started, one being a project to beautify and clean up the campus.

Taking the oath to become the college president was a step too large for most people. However, Dr. Winters was the right choice for the college and Dr. Winters made a good choice when he chose to come to Campbellsville. Dr. Winters has already given so much and has proved it's the "Beginning of a New Era."

Participating in the activities, Dr. Winters and Dr. Marshall sing along with the rest of the congregation.

Waiting with anticipation, the congregation waits for the new president to be sworn in to his new duties.

All photos courtesy of CNU

Looking on with highest praise, Dr. W. R. Davenport listens intently as the guidelines for the president are read as the incoming president, Dr. Ken Winters, looks on.

Astonished at what they've just heard, freshmen Sharon Thomas and Monica Flanagan cannot believe what Harold Adams is fixing to do to them during "The Week."

All photos courtesy of PR

Freshman Week

It began on August 29 and ended the following Friday. It was a week of torment, frustration, embarrassment, and learning. It was the week that the Senior Class got revenge. It was the week the Freshman Class wished the Earth would swallow them through the ground. It was the week to honor freshmen, Freshman Week.

The week was designated to initiate the members of the Freshman Class into the college and the new life that they were about to discover. The freshmen were made to do all sorts of silly things. They had to dress in funny clothes, catch falling water balloons, carry trays in the cafeteria, sing to distinguished faculty members, wash their hair in shaving cream, and be slaves for a day, just to name a few of the activities.

Under the leadership and guidance of their president, Harold Adams, the Senior Class got the year off to a banging start. They managed to win the Freshmen vs. Seniors Softball Game, the seniors also outdid the freshmen in another "first." This year, the Senior Class sponsored its first Olympics. The competition included most of the Olympic sports, one of which was a swimming competition.

The week proved to be an interesting experience because most of the Freshman Class participated in the ritual, unlike the Freshman Classes from the past.

Not only did the week allow the seniors to pick on the freshmen, it also helped form an everlasting bond between the classes. Freshman Week served as an ice-breaker. It allowed the upperclassmen to get to know the members of the Freshman Class and to see what they were like and how they were going to adapt to the campus and college life.

All in all, Freshman Week proved to be illuminating, enjoyable, and full of fun for everyone, not just for those involved in the yearly ritual.

Not knowing what is fixing to befall upon them, the members of the Freshman Class anxiously await their next orders during "their week."

Homecoming Week '88

A normal week on campus, right? Wrong! The week preceding the first Football Homecoming was anything but ordinary. A lot of events that happened throughout the week made the time a week to remember.

There was Hawaiian Day with an authentic luau. Then there was '50's Day with a sock hop that night in the cafeteria. There was the World's Largest Twister Game in the gymnasium. Then there was Western Day and activities that night in the gym. Finally, there was the Pep Rally and Bonfire to honor and show our support for the Fighting Tiger Football Team. Then, on Saturday, there was a Homecoming Parade through town before the game.

No matter what, throughout the week, students had a good time and made Homecoming Week a week to remember.

For '50's Day during Homecoming Week, the ladies in the Business Office showed their support by participating in the daily activities.

By participating in the Pep Rally, these students show their support for the Fighting Tiger Football Team.

Escorting his date into the gym, David Gleisner leads Theresa Combs into the arena for the night's activities.

All photos courtesy of PR

Dancing the night away, sophomore Les Chadwick does the "Twist" during the '50's Day Party in the cafeteria.

Candidates

"1988" was a year of changes; this was also the year for the first "Football Homecoming." Various clubs and organizations at the college were given the chance to elect a representative to vie for "Queen."

To be a candidate or to have a representative from an organization, a registration fee was required as well as some type of float entry in the parade. During the week, candidates were encouraged to participate in all of the games to help receive more votes from the student body.

Candidates for "Homecoming Queen" in 1988 are in the picture at left. Starting on the left: Gina Alford, Tammie Gibson, Chris Casey, Deborah Vincent, Latonya Tincher, Jessica Davenport, Kelly Burnett, Chris Maxfield, and Renee Poulos. Those not present for pictures, but candidates, are: Susie Bishop, Stephanie Mullins, and Jackie Prather.

All photos by Dr. Robert Doty

Games People Play

Campbellsville College Homecoming 1988 was filled with firsts. It was the first Football Homecoming, the first Homecoming with our new president, Dr. Winters, and was the setting for our first on-campus dance.

The theme of the 1988 Homecoming was "Games People Play." The week began with numerous activities such as: the World's Largest Twister Game, a Hawaiian luau, and a '50s Dance. Each were well attended by faculty and students. Early Saturday morning, the annual Homecoming Parade was held in downtown Campbellsville. First place went to Sigma Zeta in the float competition. Each float showed originality and hard work. Then it was on to the game.

Amidst rain and inclimate conditions, our Fighting Tigers took the field to face Earlham College. The crowd, as well as, the team was filled with school spirit and enthusiasm. The Tigers fought hard but could not overcome the opponent. The final score was 28-12 in favor of Earlham College. Although deeply saddened by their loss, there had been one event to brighten the day. Renee Poulos was crowned as the Homecoming Queen while representing Stapp Hall. She was escorted by Mosi Tafao and crowned by Kathlin McCann, the last Queen.

There was one final event for the week, a dance. The dance was well attended and enjoyed by all. All in all, Homecoming was filled with excitement and anticipation of what was yet to come.

GAMES

WHEEL OF

Homecoming '88

Fall Carnival

Helping in the aid of the college's clubs and organizations was the purpose of the Fall Carnival. This year it was held in conjunction with a football game in hopes that it would bring in even more people than before.

All kinds of booths were found at the carnival. There were food booths selling everything from candy and cookies to drinks. The favorite booth that most people visited was the Sophomore Class booth, where a person could take out their frustrations by beating up a car. The Collegiate Chorale held a yard sale during the carnival to raise money for their upcoming European tour. This year's Fall Carnival proved to be fun for all ages and it was also a big success.

With a powerful swing, junior Tim Morgan takes this opportunity to beat up the front end of this car.

Trying his best, this youngster uses his trustworthy baseball bat to knock off the door to the gas tank.

Debating on the purchase of this item, Mrs. Sheena Mays checks the cabinet over very carefully.

Valentine Pageant Tender Moments

"Tender Moments" was the theme given to the 1989 Valentine Pageant. The pageant is an annual event in which a female member of the student body can show off her looks and, especially, her talents and win.

This year's competition was a close one. But, in the end, 17-year-old sophomore, Faith Nkosi, was crowned the 1989 Queen. Faith is from Louisville, Ky., but is originally from South Africa.

The evening began by an introduction of the girls that were vying for the title. They entered in formals and then changed attire for the talent competition. Then, entertainment of all types was provided to the guests. Singing, dancing, and telling tall tales were the main highlights. Then came the moment that all had anticipated, the announcement of the Valentine Court and the 1989 Queen.

Doing the honors, Peggy Argo, the 1988 Queen, places the crown and ribbon on Faith Nkosi, the 1989 Queen.

Providing entertainment, Brent Peterson and Rob Williams tell tall tales for the crowd.

Valentine Candidates, Front row: Laura Smothers, Cami Moss, Deborah Vincent, Tam Luttrell. Back row: Tammie Gibson, Susan Bennett, Kathleen Bush, Faith Nkosi, Christy Schammert, and Sharon Thomas.

Happily smiling are the members of the Court. Laura Smothers is Miss Congeniality, Tammie Gibson is second runner-up, Faith Nkosi is the Valentine Queen, and Deborah Vincent is first runner-up in the 1989 Pageant.

Gracefully performing in the competition, these hopefuls show their talent before the judges.

FALL PLAY

On October 27, 28, 29, the members of the Drama Club presented their annual Fall Play. This year, the play was based on an Agatha Christie best-selling murder mystery.

Participating in the play allowed college students and members of the community to express themselves through the art of acting and it also allowed them to show others their capabilities in the drama department.

However, there were many "behind the scenes" actors that took care of the scenery and the lighting.

The play was a classic "whodunnit" in which the audience put the pieces together as the play progressed. Mr. Russ Mobley was the faculty member in charge of the production.

During the heated discussion, these cast members try to persuade the audience that the other is guilty.

Pleading her innocence and proving it at the same time is the main objective of this sweet, innocent character from the play.

Letting go of his feelings, the true villain is unveiled towards the ending of the Fall Play.

All photos courtesy of CKNJ

SPRING PLAY

From April 27 to April 29, the members of the Drama Club, and others, under the direction of Mr. Russ Mobley, presented the Spring Play, "Music Man." The story was more of a musical and because it was so, the play contained many members of the various musical organizations on campus as well as many members of the music faculty.

The musical was a definite "one of a kind." The casting was superbly done and the musical enabled the members to display their talents under a different light. The actors knew their lines and they received rave reviews from the college family and the community. Once again, the members of the Drama Club and the musical organizations showed their true colors.

Listening to Trent Argo's stage character, the others relax and open an ear and a heart to his story.

With various expressions on their faces, these cast members portray their own character to their best ability.

Preparing for Spring Formal

The day before the big "Spring Formal," about twenty students went to the gym and spent the day getting the gymnasium ready for its first night out. The construction was under the supervision of Ms. Sylvia Morris and the "head honchos" of the event were Cindy Crowder and Jennifer Martin. Along with their faithful crew, they set out to transform the gymnasium into a formal setting.

Throughout the evening, the size of the work crew varied. Every person had a job to complete which put them closer to the final product. All of the hard work was worthwhile as the evening the following night showed. The first "Spring Formal" was a success.

Hanging the crepe paper was a job enjoyed by Monica Flanagan and Jeff Shirley.

Carefully placing the archway under the goal was a vital part of the decorations.

Taking time out from decorating the gym, these decorators express joy over the way it looks.

All photos courtesy of Kathy Akridge

Using their imaginations, these students creatively place the black and silver streamers to hide the background and cover the walls.

Deciding where to place the other streamers, Mosi Tafao and Julie May find the moment at hand humorous.

Covering the background for the disc jockey, these students give one another a helping hand.

A Night to Remember . . . Spring Formal '89

Black and white balloons along with black and silver streamers adorned the walls and floor, transforming the gymnasium into the first of its kind. The gym was adorned in such an attire as to allow students to partake in the first Spring Formal, the first dance.

After careful planning and deliberations, on April 22, the college got all decked out to attend the spectacular event. Weeks before the set day, planning groups were already taking care of details, such as catering and decorations, not to mention who was going to be performing at the dance. Under the supervision of Ms. Sylvia Morris, things ran smoothly in order to make sure that the first dance was a big success.

The night of the big event, the weather cooperated by giving clear and beautiful skies. While inside the gymnasium, outfits of various types could be found. The dance was "semi-formal" but many of the couples chose to wear formals and tuxedos. Before coming to the formal, many couples went to their favorite restaurant and afterwards many went to their own private parties.

All in all, the college's first Spring Formal proved to be a big success, and one thing was for sure — it was "A Night to Remember."

Taking time out from dancing, these students enjoy the refreshments provided by the college's food services.

Dancing the night away, these students partake in the college's first dance.

All photos by Dr. Robert Doty

Feeling the rhythm, these students feel the beat and use this opportunity to show off the latest dance steps.

to by Ayo Olaniyan

Slowing things down a bit, these couples take the opportunity to relax and talk to one another.

Enjoying the view from the sidelines, these faculty members and guests anxiously watch the others dance.

Laughing hysterically, Rick Wigginton and his date try to perform their own version of the "Twist."

Enjoying the company of their date for the evening, these students take it easy.

Concentration is the name of the game as freshman Sean Matteoli demonstrates during a home football game against Earlham College.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Things Are Looking Up in Sports

All photos courtesy of CKNJ

With his eye on the goal line, sophomore Jeff Shirley (#24) pushes away from the Hanover College defender.

Tiger Football
Commitment to Excellence

It all began the week before classes started. Sixty-two of the finest arrived at the college to begin practicing and preparing for the upcoming football season. Under the direction of Head Coach Ron Finley and assistants the team began vigorous training exercises to get their mind and their bodies well in tune.

The squad was comprised of 17 returning members and 45 freshmen and transfers. Two members of the team were red-shirted for the season, those being senior Donnie Hudson and freshman Joe Neal Finley. Although, throughout the season, several others sat out on the sidelines as the year was known for its injuries.

The Tigers carried in an 11-game slate for their first varsity football season. Five of those games were played at home; while, on the other six, the Tigers took to the road.

The Tigers had several close calls where the game was only lost by a few points. However, the Tigers never seemed to come up with the win.

The Tiger Team had a commitment, a "Commitment to Excellence." The Tigers used that motto and they used it very well. They were filled with Tiger Spirit, on the field and off the field. On the field they used the spirit to keep themselves going and striving for the victory. Off the field they used the spirit, which they seemed to have in abundance, to keep up scholastically and to support other athletic organizations. They were good leaders and good examples, they were dedicated young men that kept up with the tradition that was well known at school, "A Commitment to Excellence."

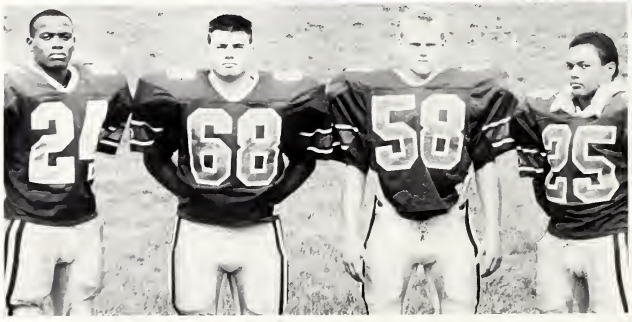
Front row: D. Amburgey, A. Olaniyan, M. Winfrey, J. Pangallo, M. Cecil, J. Shirley, D. Delk. Second row: S. Mattox, M. Cooper, S. Wright, L. Gregory, M. Mason, D. Hudson, S. Strange, B. Raley, V. Stephens. Third row: S. Chappell, M. Sanders, B. Hardwick, D. Gibson, J. Sears, G. Robbins, B. Baxter, M. Burton. Fourth row: D. Miller, D. Oates, K. Jones, D. Stewart, C. Williams, S. Holmes, C. Scharklet. Fifth row: R. Williams, H. Wiseman, S. Matteoli, B. Saylor, E. Radcliffe, R. Sams, L. Proctor, K. Monnette. Sixth row: M. Randle, W. Tabor, S. Cambron, G. Weiter, J. Embry, H. Allen, D. Mitchell, T. Barker. Seventh row: C. Gable, J. Cox, J. Stroub, J. Swarens, B. Alexander, S. Gabbard, J. Baker. Eighth row: J. Montgomery, J. Kathman, T. Gentry, M. Branham, J. Finley, B. Copeland, C. Mason, J. Edwards. Ninth row: S. Finley, T. Statom, Coach Finley, Coach Gleisner, Coach Graves, Coach Riner, Coach Wickliffe, Coach Thomas, Coach Strange. Tenth row: J. Price, M. Furnish, J. Rodgers, K. Burkhead.

Football

Waiting to go back in to the game, freshman Brian Saylor concentrates on the current play.

Explaining a strategic play, Coach Finley demonstrates to Byron Copeland how the play is run.

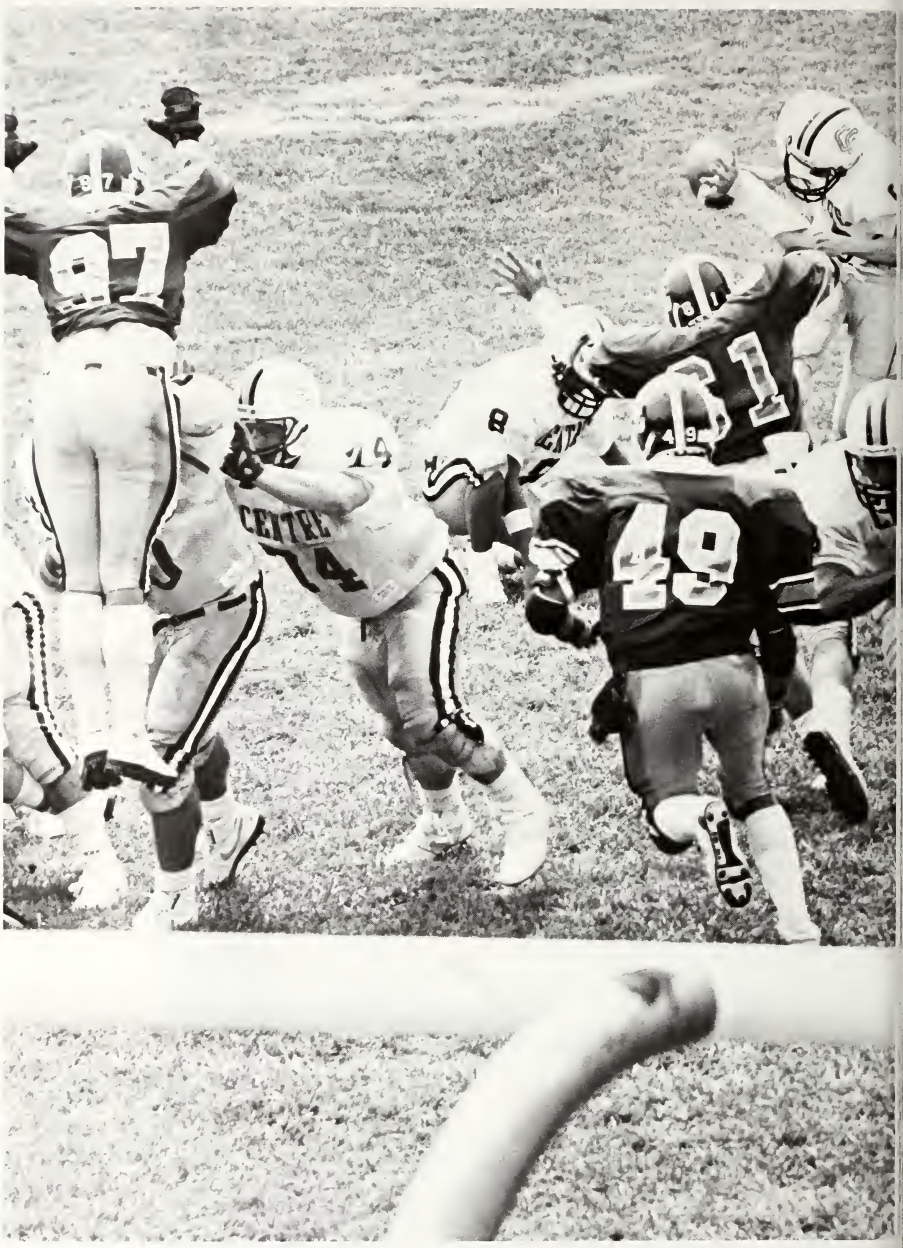
With determined looks, Captains Jeff Shirley, Joe Pangallo, Mike Cecil, and Mark Winfrey pose for the camera.



All photos courtesy of CNU

Stacked on top of one another, these defensive linemen complete their job of tackling Centre's running back.

Throwing a pass to another Tiger, quarterback Mike Mason gets the ball in the air while being surrounded.



All photos courtesy of CNJ

Blocking a punt attempt from the ten-yard line, defensive linemen Mark Branham (#97) and Mike Sanders (#49) complete the play while Chris Mason (#61) blocks the punt.

Football

Running to punt the football, freshman Earl Radcliffe concentrates on kicking the ball to the opposing team.

Carefully listening to and watching Defensive Coach Mike Thomas, these linemen concentrate on the play.

Yelling from the sidelines, sophomore Scott Wright supports his fellow teammates.

Lady Tigers

Lady Tigers

Nothing But the BEST

At the beginning of the year, Coach Donna Wise was feeling pretty satisfied with the upcoming season. She had all of the players returning from the previous squad and she also had four freshmen joining the ranks of the Lady Tigers.

Coach Wise felt early in the year that the squad had the potential to go all the way to Kansas City and the National Championship. However, the road to glory is not easy, as the Lady Tigers found out. The squad would win games, and then they would have their bad days when they couldn't hit anything and they'd lose. By the end of the season, even the fans couldn't tell what was going to happen within the ranks of the Tigers from one day to the next. So, they just kept supporting the Lady Tigers.

The Lady Tigers kept their faith and kept giving every game their all. They never gave up the faith that kept them going. In practice they were constantly giving, they kept improving their plays and their ball handling skills.

Back in August, when the team first got together, they set a goal for themselves. They set a goal to win the KIAC tournament. They accomplished that goal. The next step was to win District 32. On that one, they fell short by losing the championship game in overtime.

The Lady Tigers were an inspiring group. They were a great, fantastic organization, but they were also great off the court. They carried good grades, were good friends, and were great on the court. The 1988-89 Lady Tigers proved one thing throughout the year: that they wanted and deserved "Nothing But the BEST."

All photos courtesy of CKNJ

Front row: Tracy Compton, Becky Smith, Cortni Crews, Jackie Prather, Sarah Moody, Donna Edelen. Back row: manager Sylvia Stuckey, student trainer Tammy Statom, Lori Walker, Connie Harris, Tammy Ford, Sandra Gray, Lisa Newton, Ginger High, Coach Donna Wise, manager Jeff Marshall, statistician Jennifer Martin.

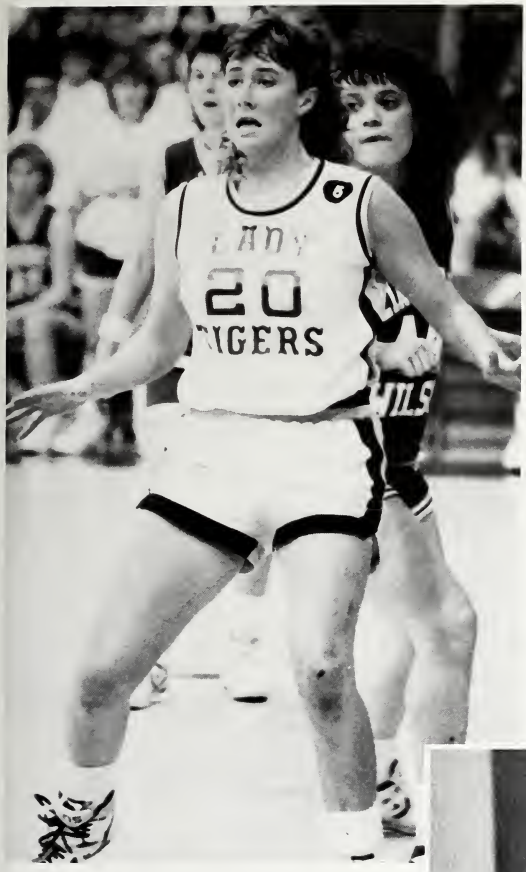
Concentrating on her aim, sophomore Becky Smith keeps her eye on the rim during a home basketball game.

All photos courtesy of CKNJ

After the realization of the tournament win hit the bench, Tracy Compton, Connie Harris, Lori Walker, Becky Smith, Sandra Gray, and Tammy Ford start the celebration.

Beginning her 14th season as coach of the Lady Tigers is Mrs. Donna Wise.

Lady Tigers



Heavily guarding her opponent, Becky Smith keeps the Lindsey Wilson player from getting her hands on the basketball.

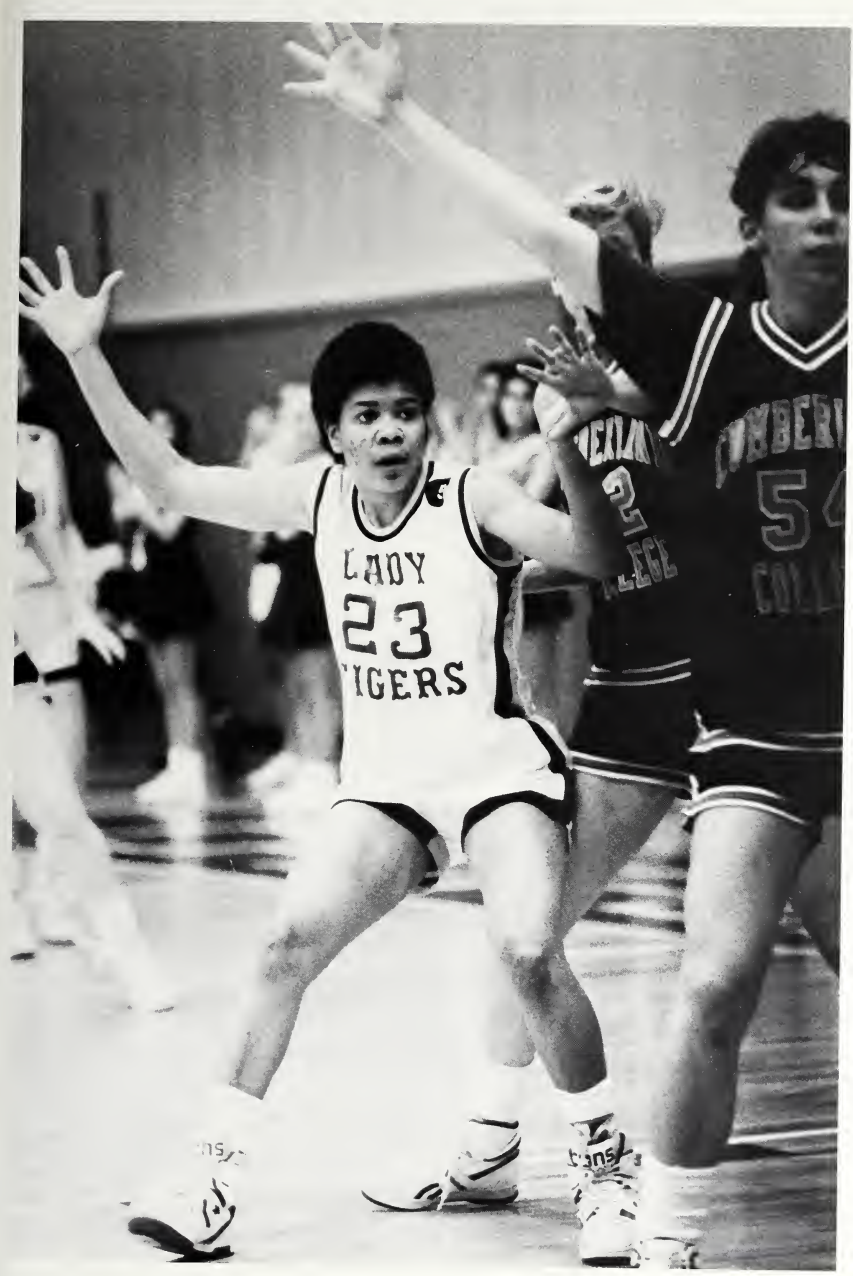
Bringing the ball down the court, junior Ginger High shows her basketball expertise.

Lady Tigers

All photos courtesy of CKNJ

Sighing with relief after the championship game, juniors Jackie Prather, Ginger High, and Sarah Moody happily pose for the camera.

Dedication to the game keeps Cortni Crews' ball handling skills at top notch while her knee bleeds on during a tough basketball game.



Giving to the best of her ability, senior Donna Edelen pushes and shoves her way through the opponents from Cumberland College.

All photos courtesy of CNJ

With a determined look on his face, junior Vernon Billups goes up for an easy two over Centre College.

Tigers

Better Than the Rest

Under the coaching abilities of Lou Cunningham, the Tiger Basketball Team had another good season. The squad retained all of its players from the '87-'88 squad and they added six freshman players to the Tiger roster.

The Tigers went into the season with a good backcourt and good forward positioning. The Tigers were a strong team defensively as well as offensively. The Tigers also went into the year with some good long-range, three-point shooters. All in all, the Tigers mixed well together in the way that the ball was handled. Coach Cunningham was pleased, needless to say, of the way the Tigers fit together off the court and on the court.

The Tiger roster only had one senior, that being David Perkins. But two of the Tigers were redshirted: Greg Hoagland, a freshman from Bullitt Central, and Sammy Chege, a freshman from Naquru, Kenya.

Being such an inspirational group, the group carried their leadership abilities from the court to the campus. Students often followed the examples set by these young men; they were constantly being watched by all.

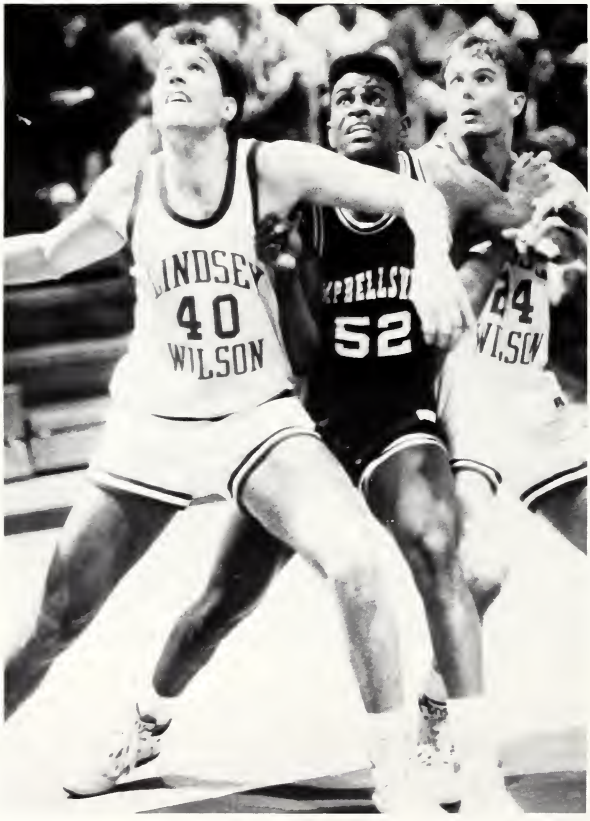
In practice, the Tigers were diligent workers as they constantly improved on what they knew and always added to the list of knowledge. The Tigers were aggressive ball players; they had the talent and skill of any of the major college teams. The Tigers kept improving during the year, and as the season started coming to a close the Tigers kept up with their leadership role by showing to the campus and the community that no matter what, the Tigers were "Better Than the Rest."

Front row: Greg Hoagland, Jason Worth, Todd Armes, Marty McGuire, Phil Cunningham, Shane Blevins, and Jerry Butler. Back row: Greg Floyd, Brent Peterson, Gary Campbell, Vernon Billups, Sammy Chege, Russ Newton, Chris Taylor, and David Perkins.

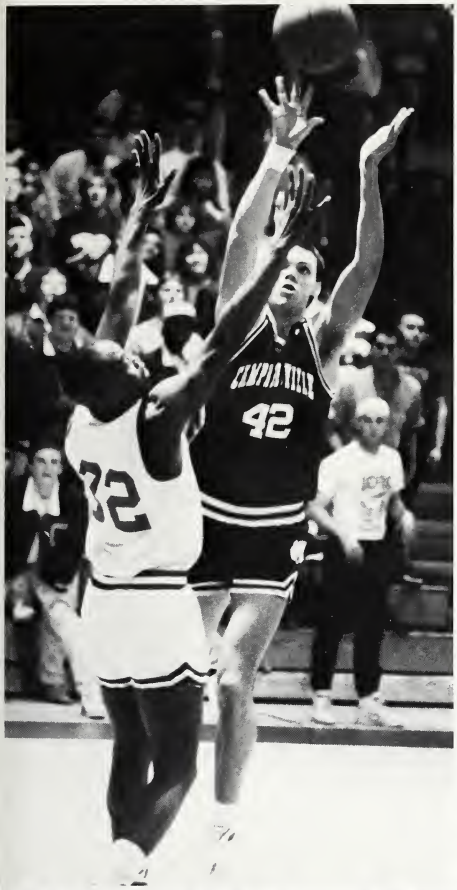
Tigers

Fighting for the rebound, Vernon Billups wedges a space between the two players for a better advantage.

Shooting the ball with ease, freshman Chris Taylor jumps high in the air over the Centre College player.



All photos courtesy of CNDJ



Aiming on the run, sophomore Brent Peterson makes it look easy beside the player from Lindsey Wilson.

Smiling with pride is the Head Coach of the Tigers, Mr. Lou Cunningham.

Keeping his eye on the basketball, Jerry Butler matches his step with that of his opponent.

Carefully picking out the passes, Shane Blevins makes sure his pass is complete to his teammate.

Skillfully maneuvering around his opponent, Phil Cunningham dazzles the crowd with another good play.

All photos courtesy of CKNJ

Tigers

Hitting a basket in a way that seems impossible, junior Todd Armes shocks all with his skills.

Obviously disagreeing with the referee's call, the Tiger bench voices their opinion.

Cheerleaders
Leaders of the Pack

Leaders

Hours upon hours of practice filled these girls' nights. Not to mention keeping up with their studies, the cheerleaders had to keep themselves fit physically and they had to keep their voices well.

In the past few years, cheerleading has become a sport of its own. The acrobatic and gymnastic skills and the leadership abilities now all play a big part in the "sport" of cheerleading.

Under the sponsoring of Jackie Thomas, the cheerleaders started the year with all new faces except those of Pat Combs and Stacy Veatch. The co-captains of this year's squad were junior Susan Bennett and senior Susie Bishop.

The cheerleaders had a long and strenuous year as they started cheering in September for the Football Team. That sporting season led the girls into the basketball season, when they cheered for the Lady Tigers and Tiger Basketball Teams.

Cheerleaders had a hard job as they were the ones chosen to keep the crowd pepped up and alive. Many times, however, that was hard, especially if there was a big lead for the Tiger squads. Once the crowd was going, the inspiration behind the voices usually aided in the victory for the Tigers. The more the crowd was behind the team, the more motivation the team had to go on and to strive for the victory. That was the responsibility of the cheerleaders, to help the teams and to support the teams.

The cheerleaders for the 1988-1989 athletic teams had a big job, they were the "leaders" at a ballgame, they gave the teams an extra inspiration, they were the "Leaders of the Pack."

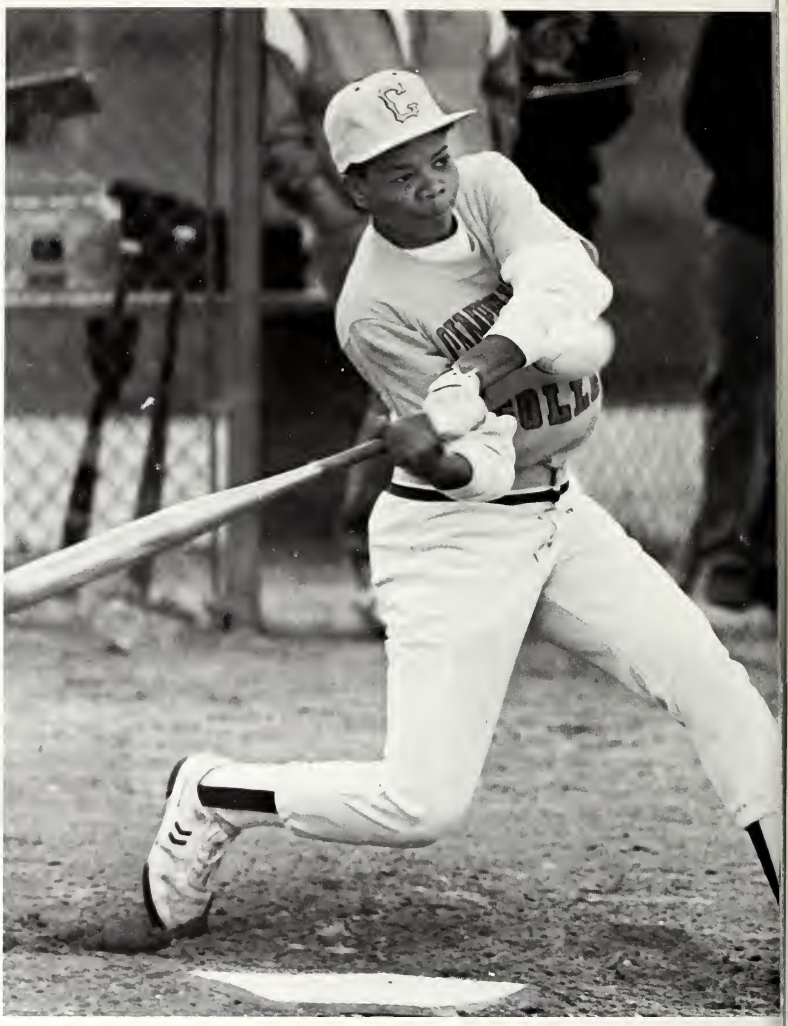
Taking time out during halftime, the cheerleaders relax and mingle with the crowd.

Preparing to get started, the cheerleaders have the look of anticipation.

Photos by Dr. Robert Doty

hoto courtesy of CKNJ

Front row: Tiger mascots Stacey Terry and Melissa Sprowls. Middle row: senior Pat Combs, junior Jennifer Wells, senior Susie Bishop, junior Melissa Wells, and junior Stacy Veatch. Back row: freshman Valerie Mills, freshman Marlena Morrison, and junior Susan Bennett. Sponsor — Jackie Thomas.



Making contact with the ball, senior Donna Edelen knocks one home for the Lady Tigers.

Trying to catch the ground ball, freshman Tammy Ford slides to receive the ball.

All photos courtesy of CK/NJ

Softball

The Right Stuff

Knowing one's basic stuff was a must for this sport, the sport of softball. The basics included pitching, running, catching, sliding, and throwing. Once all of these basics were put together and used correctly one could play softball. But, putting all of these things together and using them correctly was a lot harder than it sounds.

The Lady Tiger Softball Team is a team composed of ladies that get together to "throw around a ball and bat" for a while. The team got a late start on practice and before they knew it, they were playing their first game against Lindsey Wilson. After the Lindsey game, things just kept looking up for the Lady Tigers. They kept winning and winning and soon found themselves, too, in their own tournament. The ladies participated in two tournaments, one in Lexington and the other in Campbellsville. They fared very well in both tournament bids.

Just as in any other sport, the girls were only in it for the fun and togetherness provided by the team and sportsmanship in softball. They never knew that they would participate in a tournament at the end of their season.

The team was under the supervision and expertise of Ms. Donna Wise. With her help, the girls put together one of the best softball records recorded at Campbellsville College.

The ladies had their act together and had a great season. They knew when to do what and used the combination to prove to all that they had "The Right Stuff."

Eyeing the softball, sophomore Cortni Crews watches as the ball approaches and goes over home plate.

Baseball

Baseball
Running for Home

Running, sliding, hitting, catching, and tumbling are a few of the credentials of this sport. It sounds easy, right? But sounds easy is all that it does.

Baseball was not an easy sport to participate in, it was very time consuming. Hours upon hours of practice filled the players' lives as baseball season approached. The players ate, slept, lived, and breathed baseball.

The days normally began with classes in the mornings and then there were three to four hours of practice in the afternoons. Then, after supper, the players had to study and catch up on the homework and the "latest" before they could start to relax. For some, relaxing meant going to hit around a baseball for a few hours in the batting cage. For others, relaxing meant spending the night on the town or just sleeping. It was all hard work.

During Spring Break, the work paid off. The team competed against various other schools from around the country as they traveled to Fort Myers, Florida, to play against bigger and better teams.

This year was a growing year for the Tigers. They started the season with a smaller slate than they had anticipated. Plus, of the players they did have, three-fourths of them were freshmen and had no experience playing college baseball. The squad had to start from square one and the basic fundamentals and gradually build on their knowledge. But, as the year progressed, the Tigers got better and stronger. They scored a lot of runs and rounded the bases and were normally found busy while "Running for Home."

Photo courtesy of PR

Front row: student trainer Tammy Statom, Donnie Hudson, Jack Neely, Nick Sandefur, Jamie Rodgers, Les Chadwick, Mike Sanders, Gary Gettings, Sean Matteoli, Max Rigsby, Mark Winfrey, and manager Samantha Finley. Back row: Assistant Coach Eric Graves, Head Coach Ron Finley, Mike Ping, Barry Stringer, Russ Hedrick, Brian Alexander, Rob Rudd, Chris Gable, Larry Lipker, Dale Brussell, Randy Abernathy, and manager Kevin Burkhead.

Aiming for the catcher's glove, freshman Brian Alexander uses intense concentration during one of the home baseball games.

Waiting for the batter to make contact with the ball, sophomore Max Rigsby keeps his eye on the person behind home plate.

Photos courtesy of CAVU

All photos courtesy of CNJ

Cooling off in between matches, Ac disu Jiffar and Mike Geary take breather and discuss their newes strategies before the game.

Tiger Tennis

The Best by Far

Tennis

L-O-V-E is a good word to use when describing this game. Not only is it used when keeping the score, the word can also be used to describe the players and the coach of the Tiger Tennis Team. They had a "love" for the sport and for the way that the sport helped them to relax. Most of the tennis players just played around for the fun of it and for the relaxation of playing the game.

But, the fun ended too soon. The next thing they knew, they were hosting our Conference's Tennis Tournament. They placed first in almost every match and earned enough points to be named the champions of the tournament.

The guys had never really planned on getting that far but, through the season, one could tell where they were headed. The guys defeated teams from the big name schools that no one could imagine us defeating in anything. The guys only played the sport for the fun of it and it led them to the Conference Championship Title. The most prestigious award the Tennis Team has won so far.

One never knows where one is going to be later down there at the end of the road, so one should be prepared for anything. That is one lesson that the Tennis Team has learned this year. As for next year, they will have all returning members and with a few more on the team should be strengthened.

By winning their title, one would have to recognize the capabilities of the team and that they're "The Best By Far."

Front row: Kevin Merritt, Coach David Parsons. Back row: James Davis, Addisu Jiffar, friend of the team, Eric Larue, and Mike Geary.

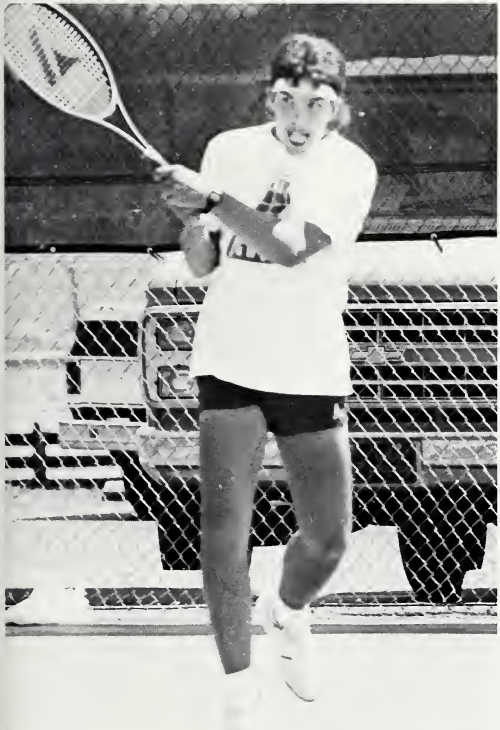
Tennis

Aiming for the backcourt, freshman Eric Larue uses all of his power to get the ball across the net.

All photos courtesy of CKNJ

Smiling with pride, the "Ebony and Ivory Express," Addisu Jiffar and Mike Geary, proudly hold their trophy.

With a powerful swing, sophomore James Davis serves to his opponent during a tournament.



Concentrating on his game, Kevin Merritt hits the ball back to the opposition.

Discussing the newest techniques, the team members gather around their coach, David Parsons.

Keeping his eye on the ball, James Davis uses heavy concentration as a part of his technique.

Aiming for the hole, John Mesplay steadily aligns the ball to the hole.

With a mighty swing, Neil Nunn sends the golf ball in the direction of the hole.

Photos courtesy of CNRJ

Golf
Steady as it Goes

Heavy concentration was the name of the game in the game of golf. It wasn't easy to stand for long periods of time and use a golf club to aim a small golf club and hit a small ball on to the green in hopes to hit the small ball into the hole on the green. One would have to admire someone with that much patience to perform such a difficult skill.

Under the direction of sponsor, Ms. Donna Wise, this year's golf team was just out for one thing, to make sure that they had fun. And have fun they did! They had so much fun that they got to attend a National Tournament in Michigan after school was out as a reward for all of their hard work and dedication to their sport. However, through all of this, the golfers learned.

As things happen, people learn without realizing that they're learning. This happened to the Golf Team. They learned how to improve their golfing skills and techniques. As the year progressed, the golfers' scores gradually got lower and better and, eventually, it took less tries to get the ball to the location that they thought it should be.

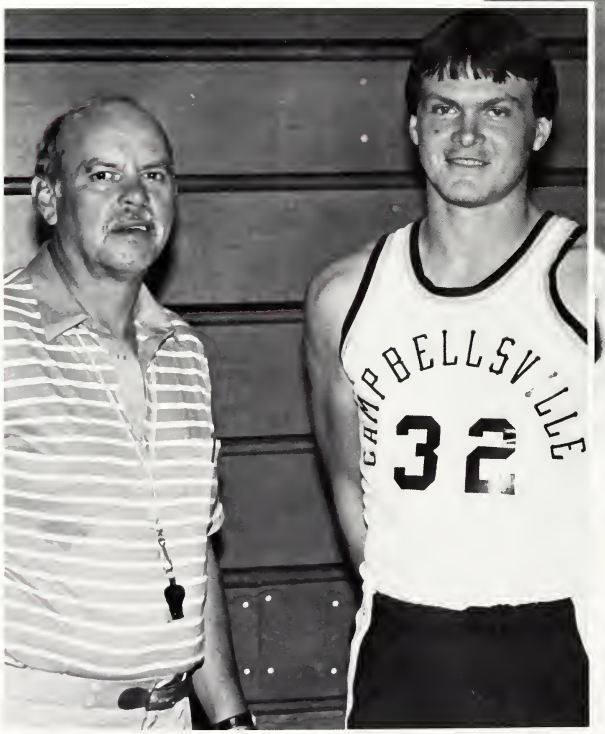
Slowly, but surely, the Tiger Golf Team got better as individuals and as a group. They provided assurance to their comrades during tournaments and during practice sessions. Although the golfers were just at it for the fun of it, golf proved to be a learning aid on both the golf course and in the classroom as it taught the students a valuable lesson in life: to take things "Steady as it Goes."

Front row: Jeff Marshall, Stan Strader, Jerry Butler. Back row: Sponsor Donna Wise, John Mesplay, Byron Bennett, and Neil Nunn.

Sports Snaps

CAMPBELSVILLE
32

Sports Snaps



During half-time of one of the football games, these students take time to get together and discuss the latest "happenings" on campus.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Things Are Looking Up in People

Graduating Seniors

Bachelor of Arts Degree

December 16, 1988

Tia Marie Nance

May 13, 1989

Wendy Michelle Chesser
Andrew Lee Colley
Margie Michele Crawford
Amy Jo Harris

Bachelor of Music Degree

May 13, 1989

Suellen McKinney Higgins
Pamela Lynn Watson

July 28, 1989

Jon Stephen Bristow

Associate of Science Degree

December 16, 1988

Omer Lynn Colvin
Melissa Gail Lackey

May 13, 1989

Teresa Annette Edwards
Teresa Gail Richardson
Latricia Gayle Wise

July 28, 1989

Terry Wayne Bright

The Final Step

Bachelor of Science Degree

December 16, 1988

Patricia Yankey Devine
Derrick Gene Gilbert
Gail Lavonne Brown King
David Scott Lowery
Teresa Whitaker Lyons
Sandra Lee Mattingly
Eritrea Menghistab
Danny Wayne Newcomb
Joyce Bennett Read
Melody Dawn Yarber Stringer
Pamela Ruth Sublett
Mekdes Tilahun
Sherrill R. Turpin

May 13, 1989

Harold Lee Adams
Nate V. Adams
Vangela Lynn Barnes Altman
Mary Helen Ames
Tracy J. Bertram
Marian Lea Braden
Pamela Gregory Brower
Kelly D. Burnett
Annette Smith Clark
Richard Lee Dawson
Renee Himes DeMers
Cheri L. Dicken
Gary Mitchell Durham
Ramona Woodring Fields
Kevin Glenn Ford
Ritchie Dean Gaddis
Julianne Franklin Goins
Ronald Dawayne Goodin
Karen Lynn Graves
Charles Edward Hamlin
Michael Eugene Harris
Virginia Carolyn Hawkins
Kelli Reid Whitlow Henderson
Mark Edward Kearney
Melissa Dawn Kessler
Tina Lashley
Kathlin Elaine McCann
Nahom Abraham Michael Melisa Anne Ellis Morris
Deborah H. Mullins
Stephanie Dawn Mullins
Colleen Collins O'Banion
Virgil R. Parker
Michael Edward Pollock
Kimberly S. Reed Powell
Linda Sue Purdy
Mary Anna Russell
Mimi Samson
Deanna Renee Judd Scott
Jo Lynn Robinson Shipp
Kathryn Susan Raley Smith
Bonnie Dell Purdom Smothers
Laura Lea Smothers
Sarah Jane Stafford
Joyce Dean Holmes Stephens
Dewayne Darwin Stringer
Elisa Thompson
Roman Tilahun
Deborah Michelle Vincent
Harold Alan Watts
Sonya Michelle Wilcoxson
William A. Winfrey

July 28, 1989

Sondra Gail Carman
Thomas Allen Conway
Brian Gordon Drury
Deana Lynn Duncan
Phyllis Ann Durbin
Gary Dean Gardner
James Richard Goode
Mary Kaye Hutchins
Joe Thomas Kearney
Richard Kelly Kessler
Joan Karen Minor
Rebecca Sue Pittman
Renee Sue Poulos
George Henry Robertson
Edna Ridgeway Seabrooks
Sylvia Ann Stuckey
James Edward Weihrauch
Judith Anne Woodward

A Step Into the Future Seniors

Back in April of 1988, the members of the Senior Class were already preparing for their last year of college. In April, the class chose their officers for the upcoming year through Student Government elections.

This class will be remembered as the class known for "firsts." They got to be the first graduating class under our new college president, Dr. Ken Winters. They were the class to be known as the first Senior Class to support our new, first-year, Varsity Football Team. They were, also, the first class to be honored at the first-ever Spring Formal.

For the members of the Senior Class, they were preparing to cross a milestone in their educational careers — graduation. Throughout the year the class did things to prepare themselves for the glorious event. First, they ordered and received their class rings, which served as a symbol of all of the hard work that they had done through the years. Next on the agenda was to be fitted for caps and gowns. The final step in preparing for graduation was receiving and then sending out invitations inviting beloved ones to graduation.

Seniors were known for their superb leadership and guidance by the underclassmen as well as the faculty. They were knowledgeable in their fields and in the ways of the world. They were often approached with a problem that they easily found the solution to. Truly, the class used their knowledge to prepare for the future and the tasks yet to face them as they left the college. Through college, the class gained more knowledge and experience in the ways of the world. For everyone college is just a stepping stone, and, for these Seniors, it was just a "Step Into the Future."

Harold Adams
President

Deborah Vincent
Vice President

Cindy Crowder
Secretary

Kathlin McCann
Treasurer

Ms. Sylvia Morris
Class Sponsor

BECKY ADAMS
Campbellsville, KY

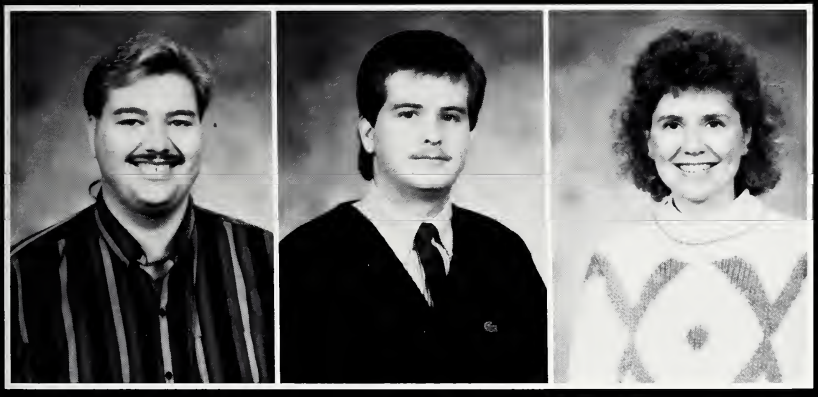
BILL ADAMS
Bardstown, KY

HAROLD ADAMS
Campbellsville, KY

NATE ADAMS
Campbellsville, KY

VANGIE ALTMAN
Campbellsville, KY

MARY AMES
Chaplin, KY



PAUL BARNES
Campbellsville, KY

TRACY BERTRAM
Campbellsville, KY

MARIAN BRADEN
Springfield, KY

STEVE BRISTOW
Campbellsville, KY

PAM BROWER
Campbellsville, KY

KELLY BURNETT
Elizabethtown, KY

WENDY CHESSER
Bloomfield, KY

ANNETTE CLARK
Dunnville, KY

TOM CONWAY
Campbellsville, KY

MARGIE CRAWFORD
Huntington Beach, CA

CINDY CROWDER
Elkhorn City, KY

MELISSA DAFFRON
Campbellsville, KY

PATRICIA DEVINE
Mackville, KY

BRIAN DRURY
Lebanon Junction, KY

DEANA DUNCAN
Hodgenville, KY

PHYLLIS DURBIN
Elizabethtown, KY

RAMONA FIELDS
Campbellsville, KY

KEVIN FORD
Lebanon, KY

GARY GARDNER
Hodgenville, KY

JULIANNE GOINS
Campbellsville, KY

WAYNE GOODIN
Finley, KY

KAREN GRAVES
Louisville, KY

ED HAMLIN
Campbellsville, KY

TAMMY HARDING
Campbellsville, KY

AMY HARRIS
Miamisburg, OH

MICHAEL HARRIS
Greensburg, KY

JENNIFER HASELWOOD
Hodgenville, KY

CAROLYN HAWKINS
Lancaster, KY

KELLI HENDERSON
Summersville, KY

MISSI KESSLER
Greensburg, KY

RICHIE KESSLER
Greensburg, KY

RAY KUSZMAUL
Gravel Switch, KY

TINA LASHLEY
Pleasant City, OH

TONYA LEMONS
Campbellsville, KY

DEBBIE MARTIN
Bowling Green, KY

KATHLIN MCCANN
Campbellsville, KY

CATHY MILLER
Campbellsville, KY

JANA MOORE
Murphysboro, TN

MELISA MORRIS
Campbellsville, KY

STEPHANIE MULLINS
Campbellsville, KY

TIA NANCE
Campbellsville, KY

DANNY NEWCOMB
Campbellsville, KY

COLLEEN O'BANION
Campbellsville, KY

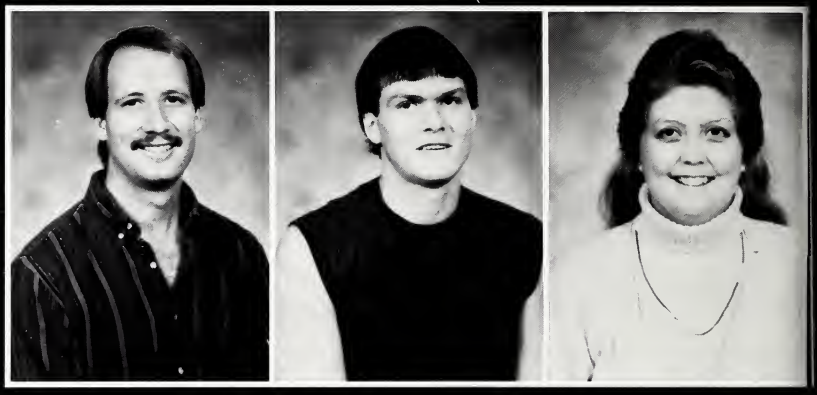
AYO OLANIYAN
Ibadan, Nigeria

JOHN OLANIYAN
Ibadan, Nigeria

VIRGIL PARKER
Campbellsville, KY

DAVID PERKINS
Summersville, KY

REBECCA PITTMAN
Campbellsville, KY



RENEE POULOS
Sterling Heights, MI

KIMBERLY POWELL
Campbellsville, KY

KATHY PRICE
Campbellsville, KY

CHERYL RICHARDSON
Campbellsville, KY

ED RIPPETOE
Russell Springs, KY

GEORGE ROBERTSON
Tompkinsville, KY

MARY RUSSELL
Springfield, KY

SALEH SAID
Louisville, KY

DEANNA SCOTT
Summersville, KY

EDNA SEABROOKS
Lebanon, KY

JO SHIPP
Campbellsville, KY

LINDA SHIPP
Campbellsville, KY

BONNIE SMOTHERS
Lebanon, KY

LAURA SMOTHERS
Elizabethtown, KY

SARAH STAFFORD
Yosemite, KY

JOYCE STEPHENS
Russell Springs, KY

DEWAYNE STRINGER
Campbellsville, KY

MELODY STRINGER
Campbellsville, KY

SYLVIA STUCKEY
Elizabethtown, KY

PAMELA SUBLETT
Campbellsville, KY

GARY THOMAS
Campbellsville, KY

ELISA THOMPSON
Raywick, KY

DAVID TINNELL
Edmonton, KY

DEBORAH VINCENT
Bowling Green, KY

JENNIFER WARD
Campbellsville, KY

ALAN WATTS
Owensboro, KY

SONYA WILCOXSON
Greensburg, KY

JUDITH WOODWARD
Franklin, KY

Only One More Year
Juniors

Being a Junior was not all fun and games, there was a lot of hard work involved in this prestigious position. For example, by the time an individual had reached their third year in college, he or she was expected to have declared a major and/or minor in the field of one's own choice. For many, that choice was hard enough to make by itself. This was a year for many to get down to work on their studies and to keep up their grades. For others, it meant to start studying and trying to make a grade. But, whichever it was, this was the year for studying hard.

However, there were fun aspects to school. Extracurricular activities kept students busy. Different kinds of enjoyment could be found at club and organizational meetings, pep rallies, ballgames of all sorts, or just being out on the town.

After having completed two years of college, it would seem that during one's junior year they could sit back and take it easy. Not so, if anything the junior year proved to be as much or more so hectic than the first two years.

Throughout the year, the Junior Class grew closer together. They started accepting new and bigger responsibilities as they realized that the end of their college careers was quickly coming to a close. Some got jobs that they worked at on afternoons and weekends. Others decided to take a big step and move off-campus to their own apartment so they would not be plagued with the rules surrounding dorm life. No matter what, the Juniors finished this year with the attitude that there was "Only One More Year."

Vernon Billups
President

Todd Armes
Vice President

Susan Bennett
Keith Benningfield
Susie Bishop
Heather Campbell

Stephanie Colvin
Karen Conway
Marcie Cottrell
Tammy Cox

Brenda DeFord
Jay Eastridge
Carol Gribbins
Jayme Hagan

Rhonda Hansford
Lisa Harden
Patricia Harvey
Greta Heady

Rusty Hedrick
Penny Kennedy
Eric King
Cris Maxfield

John Mesplay
Tim Morgan
Chuck Owens
Jackie Prather

Dianna Ramage
David Ramsey
Becky Reynolds
David Reynolds

Donna Smith
Stan Strader
Barry Stringer
Martha Thompson

Latonya Tincher
John Trout
Stacy Veatch
April Washburn

Jennifer Wells
Ellen Wilson
Robbie Young

Joking around at the Homecoming Banquet '88, junior Jackie Prather helps separate the rings.

Being escorted onto the rain-soaked football field, Latonya Tincher is the Commuters representative.

Hurrying through the corridors, junior Lisa Harden finishes getting ready before going to keep the books for the Tiger Basketball Teams.

Settling Down to Work
Sophomores

Sophomores had it easy, right? Wrong! Sophomores were also a part of the college that felt necessary to perfect the "3-R's — Reading, 'Riting, and 'Rithmetic." But, the Sophomore Class found a way to mix in another "3-R's" with the first three, those being "Restin', Relaxin', and Recuperatin'." After a day full of classes and studying, many spent the nights relaxing from the hard day's work.

Relaxation could be found in many forms: going swimming, going to the park, going to the movies, and going bowling named a few of the recreational ideas. Others found staying around the college doing things like playing pool in the rec room or going to ballgames or just watching television to be a form of recuperation.

In the Fall, Sophomores returned to the college campus with a new outlook on life. They were no longer "Freshmen" and couldn't be looked down upon; they were now upperclassmen. After a summer of separation, they were able to greet their old friends and classmates and catch up on the latest.

Not soon after, they were back into the old ritual of going to classes and studying. But another fad entered the scene at about this time, one of spirit. The Sophomore Class made themselves known throughout the year as diligent supporters of the Tiger Athletic Teams.

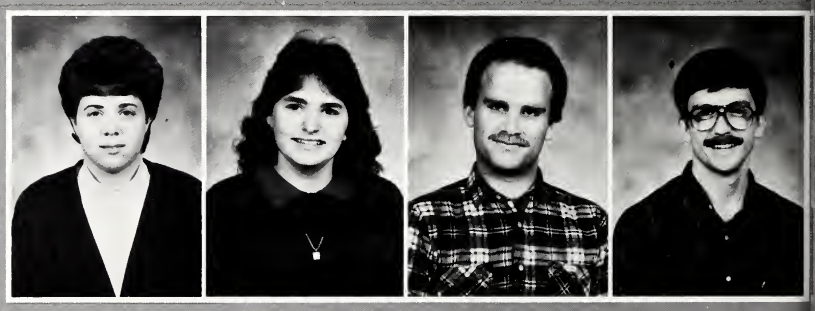
No matter what the occasion, one could be sure that the Sophomore Class would be represented. Sophomores were a class that now knew the ropes and they knew what was expected of them. They knew the "Do's and Don'ts" of the college scene and, once returning in the Fall, it was all just a matter of "Settling Down to Work."

Neil Thompson
President

Stephanie Dolph
Vice President

Rhonda Caulk
Secretary

Les Chadwick
Treasurer



Kathy Akridge
Christy Anderson
Joel Arnold
Terry Bright

Kathleen Bush
Chris Casey
Rhonda Caulk
Les Chadwick

Lisa Chappell
Gary Conway
Judy Corbin
Susie Crowder

Todd Cumberledge
Jessica Davenport
James Davis
David Delk

Stephanie Dolph
Lisle Drury
Bruce Embry
Steve Embry

Donna Ford
Jeff Frodge
Tammie Gibson
Lew Gregory

Rhonda High
John Hilton Julie Howard
Mark Jones

Keith Lewis
Tammy Luttrell
Sherri Marcum
Jeff Marshall

Mike Mason
John Neikirk
Faith Nkosi
Bobby Raley

Jennifer Rathjens
Pam Reed
Teresa Richardson
Max Rigsby

In Memory of Christy

The 1989 Maple Trail was done in loving memory of Miss Crystal Caudette Marcum. Christy passed away on Tuesday, October 11, 1988, from the result of an accident that occurred while she was horseback riding.

Christy was a vital part of the campus as she was involved in many of the school's functions and organizations. However, she will be known and remembered the best as "No. 5" on the Lady Tiger Basketball Team. Sequentially, after Christy's death, her "No." was retired from the squad that she so dearly loved.

Christy was a 1987 graduate of Pulaski County High School, where she was a member of the Lady Maroons. At Campbellsville, she was an 18-year-old sophomore that was active in all sports and active supporting all sports. Her parents are Lewell and Doris Marcum of Nancy, Kentucky.

Although Christy is no longer with us, she will forever hold a place in our minds and our hearts.

Jamie Rodgers
Rob Rudd
Christy Schammert
Jim Sears

Linda Sharpe
Jeff Shirley
Becky Smith
Melissa Sprowls

Faith Nkosi

Faith Nkosi is the Sophomore spotlight. Faith is 17-years-old and she graduated from Atherton High School in Louisville in 1987. However, she is originally from South Africa.

Faith was an active student at the college. She participated in the Baptist Student Union, Sigma Zeta, and the Math and Science Club. During the year, she received the honor of being the 1989 Valentine Queen. Faith is also an avid supporter of the Tiger Football, Lady Tiger Basketball, and Tiger Basketball Teams.

A few of Faith's favorite things include: dancing, listening to music, and the color pink.

Tammy Statom
Vince Stephens
T. J. Strevels
Marcy Sullivan

Sherry Webb
Judy Willems
Y'Vette Williams
Latricia Wise

Joan Wood
Scott Wright

Photo courtesy of CNU

Aiding one another in the registration process, sophomore Max Rigsby watches while sophomore Jeff Shirley fills out his papers.

Anxiously awaiting the announcement of the Homecoming Court, sophomore Jessica Davenport, escorted by Jay Eastridge, represents the Sophomore Class during Homecoming '88.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Photos by Tammy Slatom

Taking care of a cold is one of the things that are looked forward to. Sophomore Y'Vette Williams uses the remedy of cough syrup.

With arms outstretched, sophomore Lori Walker proudly shows off her "clean" dorm room.

A New Beginning

Freshmen

Scared and excited were two verbs used to describe the Freshman Class.

Coming to a strange and new place now knowing anyone was a definite disadvantage of being a freshman. Making friends was a must and then settling into a daily routine of classes and studying was another aspect of college.

The first week of classes were spent registering and purchasing books and materials. Then, it hit! The first full week of classes was designated just for them, it was Freshman Week!

That was a week filled with mischief. Freshmen were forced to do all kinds of silly things by the seniors. They had to carry trays and be slaves and dress silly and other fun things like that. But, the Freshman Class was not one to be made fun of, not in the least.

Being the largest in the school and having approximately 50 members of the Tiger Football Team in their class enabled the Freshman Class to be full of one thing — Tiger Spirit! The Freshman Class was always well represented at the ballgames and, needless to say, they brought a whole new meaning to the word "Fan."

Throughout the year, the freshmen held a voice in what was going on and in what was yet to happen on campus. They got to elect their own class officers and their own representatives to the SGA cabinet. Those people helped make important decisions and let people know what the Freshman Class was thinking throughout the year.

No matter what it was, the members of the Freshman Class proved that they were trustworthy and they were ready for new challenges and adventures and that they wanted "A New Beginning."

Eric Graves
President

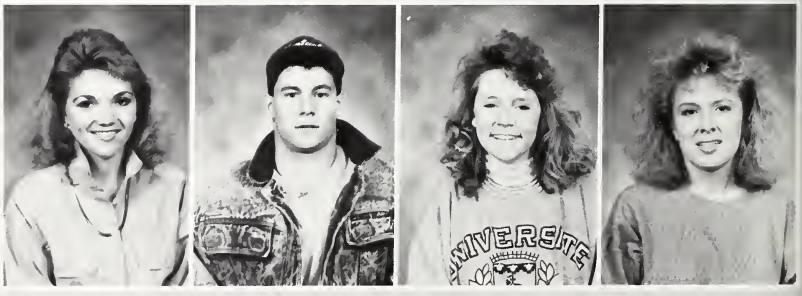
Mosi Tafao
Vice President

Amy Blumenstock
Secretary

Tammy Roy
Treasurer

Brian Alexander
Gina Alford
Heath Allen
Dwayne Amburgey

Heather Arnold
Brad Baxter
Shannon Blackburn
Britt Blanton



Amy Blumenstock
Laura Brady
Mark Branham
Kim Breland

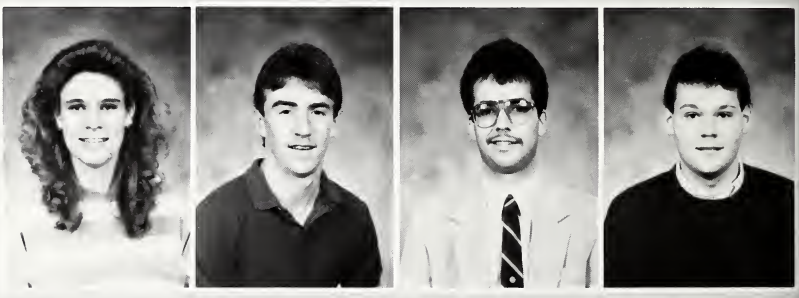
Joyce Buckland
Angie Byrd
Marcina Clark
Marc Cooper

Yolanda Cottrell
Linda Daffron
Lanetta Davis
Michael DeSpain

Glen Dotson
Tammy Embry
Krystal Emerick
Robin Emerson

Joe Neal Finley
Samantha Finley
Monica Flanagan
Tammy Ford

Jana Franklin
Chris Gable
Eric Garvey
Mike Geary



Gary Gettings
Billy Gregory
Melisa Hedgepath
Deborah Hinton

Rick Howard
Ann Hurt
Pam Johnson
Roslyn Johnson

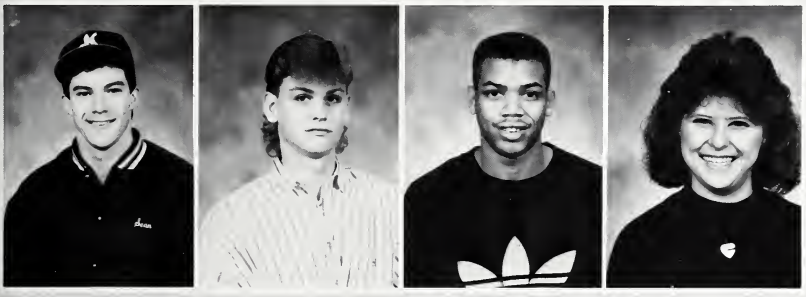
Eric Graves

For most men, being a husband and a father would be too much to handle; but not so in the case of Eric Graves.

He is not only a husband and a father but he is also a college student and the President of the Freshman Class. But, that's not all. He's also the dorm director of South Hall, student coach of the Football Team, and assistant coach of the Baseball Team.

All of this doesn't stop him. He keeps his grades up while concentrating on his major — Religious Studies. Then when he's not studying or working with one of the teams, he could be found with his wife or one of his children, Christy or Joshua.

Todd Johnson
Sherry Kumra
Dawn Lambert
Larry Lipker



Sean Matteoli
Drew Matthews
Marty McGuire
Valerie Mills

Marlana Molden
Kenny Monnette
Marlena Morrison
Jack Neely

Mosi Tafao

Moving from Hawaii to Kentucky and back to Hawaii is a lot for one person to handle. But, Faasaviliga Nikolao (Mosi) Tafao handled the adjustment very well.

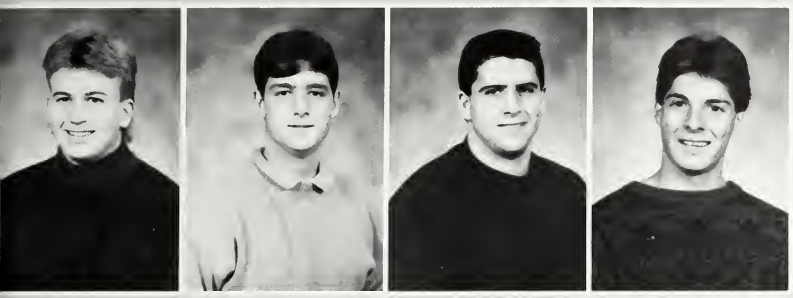
His birthplace is Hawaii but his family moved to Louisville, where Mosi graduated from Atherton HS in 1988. Then, in December of 1988, his family moved back to Hawaii.

Mosi was very active in his class, as he was the Vice President. He was also involved with the BSU. Some of his favorites included playing volleyball, listening to music, and making up new dance steps. His major and/or minor was still undecided but for now he just wants to have fun.

Diane Otte
Rob Oversen
Matthew Ramage
Shelli Rattliff

Christy Rednour
Donna Rice
Tammy Roy
Nick Sandefur

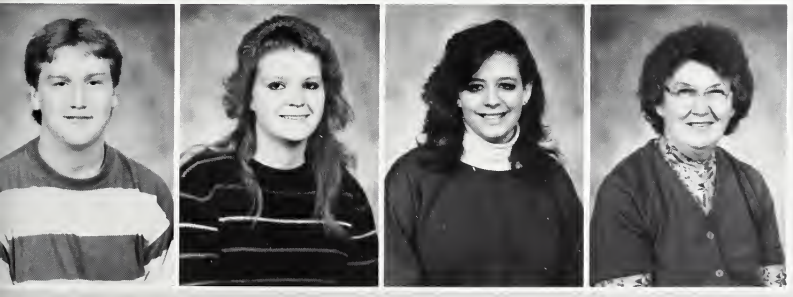
Mike Sanders
Brian Saylor
Anna Sell
John Shuman



Sean Slagle
Jason Speaks
Jason Swarens
Eric Swayne

Mosi Tafao
Chris Taylor
Stacey Terry
Sharon Thomas

Erika Thompson
Karen Thompson
Julie Tinsley
Nikki True



Kelly Vincent
Tammy Walls
Melissa Warford
Betty Washburn

Gene Washburn
Tim Welky
Amy Whitlock
John Woodson

Teresa Workman

While at the Christmas Celebration, these freshmen gaily converse.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Photo courtesy of CKNJ

Being a part of the Football Team, Joe Finley gets his blood pressure taken during a physical.

Exhaustion quickly set in when freshman Anna Seli returned from a tiring weekend.

Photo by Kathy Akridge

Riding in the Homecoming Parade is the freshman attendant, Gina Alford, and her escort, senior Donny Hudson.

During a routine physical, freshman football members Shane Gabard and Jimbo Stroub test their hand strength.

Photo courtesy of CNJ

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Waiting to board the chartered bus on the first leg of the tour are freshman members of the Collegiate Chorale.

Patiently filling out the lengthy financial aid forms, freshman Melissa Warford concentrates on her paperwork.

Photo by Kathy Akridge

Anxiously waiting for the answer, senior Cindy Crowder has a look of bewilderment concerning the question.

Caught in the act, photographer Ayo Olaniyan pauses from taking pictures of the Tiger Football Team.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Photo by Kathy Akridge

Refreshed after a good night's sleep, Jana Moore decides to start off the day with a bright smile.

Polite conversation filled the air as faculty and students celebrated the holidays at Christmas Celebration '88.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Photo by Ayo Olaniyan

Photo by Kathy Akridge

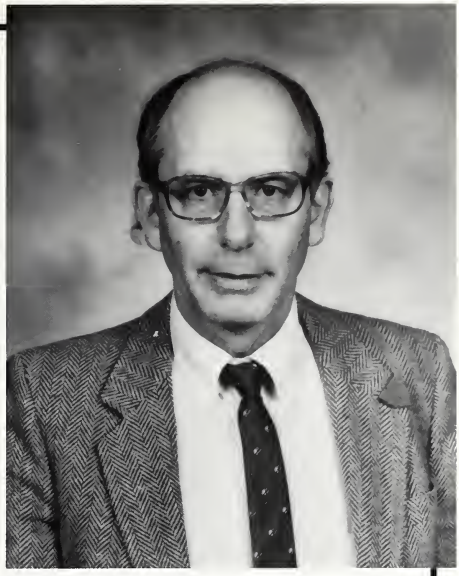
Laughing hysterically, senior Deborah Vincent finds something funny while watching a ballgame.

Showing her stuff, senior Donna Edelen gives her "I dare you" look while visiting a friend.

With the thoughts of Summer, come the thoughts of separation. Tammy Statom, Mosi Tafao, Julie May, and Faith Nkosi smile for the camera.

President
Dr. Kenneth Winters

Dr. Robert Clark



Mr. Dan Flanagan

Mr. Alvin Hardy

Ms. Sylvia Morris

Faculty

Mr. Carlos Anderson
Social Work

Dr. William Bennett Political Science

Dr. Mark Bradley
Music

Ms. Beth Broome
Education

Mr. Tommy Clark
Art

Dr. David Cundiff
Health and P.E.

Faculty

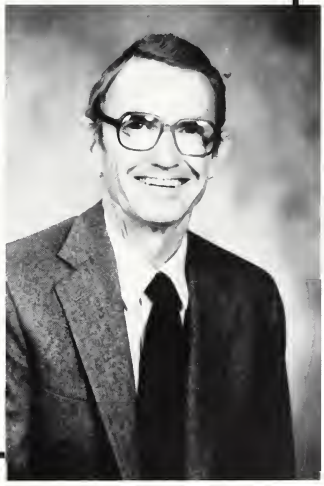
Ms. Linda Cundiff
Art

Dr. Robert Doty
English

Mrs. Carolyn Garrison
Education

Mr. Bobby Himes
History

Dr. Phillip Lee
Business



Dr. Kenneth Martin
Music

Faculty

Mrs. Janet Miller
Mathematics

Mr. Russell Mobley
Drama

Mrs. Nevalyn Moore
Music

Dr. William Pennebaker
Education

Mrs. Donna Pirouz
Modern Foreign Language

Dr. Gary Plumlee
Psychology

Faculty

Mrs. Shirley Risen
Accounting

Dr. Wesley Roberts
Music

Dr. Milton Rogers
Biology

Mr. David Salyers
Music

Ms. Kay Sutton
Chemistry

Mr. Harlie White
Mathematics and Computer Science

Staff

Ms. Peggy Aaron
Secretary

Mr. Trent Argo
Admissions Counselor

Mr. Thomas Biggs
Registrar

Ms. Linda Blincoe
Admissions Counselor

Mr. Doug Broome
Library

Mrs. Ernie Clark
Controller

Staff

Mrs. Pat Cowherd
Coordinator of Counseling

Mr. Mike Crain
Alumni and Church Relations

Ms. Catherine Davis
Secretary

Mrs. Teresa Elmore
Secretary

Mr. Ron Finley
Coach

Mrs. Virginia Flanagan
Director of Public Relations

Staff

Mr. Joe Foster
Business and Economics

Mr. Stephen Giles
Computer Services

Mrs. Sharon Gowin
Admissions

Ms. Elizabeth Hamilton
Print Shop

Mrs. Jeanette Hampton
Campus Nurse

Mr. Melvin Hampton
Financial Development

Staff

Ms. Theresa Hendrickson
Dorm Director, Financial Aid

Ms. Pat Hightower
Secretary

Mrs. Betty Kidwell
Business Office

Ms. Karen Lynema
Library

Mrs. Sheena Mays
Business Office

Mrs. Joan McKinney
Public Relations

Staff

Mr. Corky Mohedano
Television Studio

Dr. Irvin Murrell
Library Director

Mrs. Jeanette Parker
Admissions Counselor

Mrs. Judy Payne
Secretary

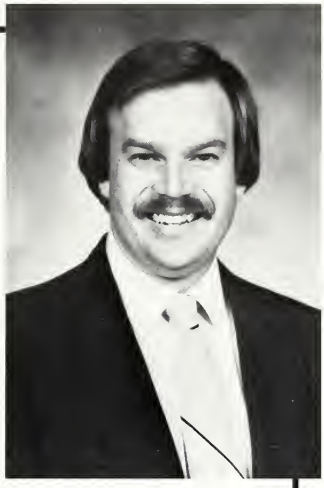
Mr. Jeff Pence
Campus Ministries Intern

Mrs. Connie Riley
Registrar Office

Staff

Mr. Haywood Riner
Coach

Mrs. Carol Rowland
Secretary



Mr. Jimmy Rowland
Admissions Counselor

Mrs. Joan Stansbury
Business Office

Mrs. Judi Stewart
Secretary

Mrs. Connie Wilson
Secretary

MAINTENANCE STAFF
Mr. David Pierce
Mr. Kenneth Bartley
Mr. Don Benningfield
Mr. Rick Benningfield
Mr. Ronnie Bishop
Mr. Harlan Bohanon
Mr. Glenn Corbin
Mrs. Janet Johnson
Mr. Leroy Johnson
Mr. Michael O'Bryan
Mr. Spencer Parker
Mr. Danny Rodgers

While trying to shorten the registration process by using a computer, Connie Wilson and Elizabeth Hamilton wait for the next display to come up on the screen.

Taking time out from hectic schedules, Gordon Weddle and Harlie White pose for the camera.

During a recent meeting, Doug Broome tells his opinion as Dr. Winters and friend listen intently.

Photos courtesy of CKNJ

GAMES PEOPL

During the Homecoming Banquet, Dr. Winters presented Spencer Parker with a plaque for his years of service to the college.

Enjoyable conversations prevailed as these members of the faculty and staff discuss the latest at the Christmas celebration.

During the Homecoming Parade, the Phi Beta Lambda members show their school spirit by creating a "Monopoly" float to support their candidate for homecoming queen.

Photo by Dr. Robert Doty

Things Are Looking Up in Organizations

Art Club

President: Joe Kearney
Vice President: J. T. Marsh
Secretary/Treasurer: Amy Harris
Sponsor: Mr. Tommy Clark
Sponsor: Ms. Linda Cundiff

Baptist Student Union

President: Greta Heady
Vice President: Debbie Martin
Secretary/Treasurer: Laura Smothers
Missions Coordinator: Nate Adams
Commuters: Latonya Tincher
Creative Worship: Karen Graves
Fellowship: Jennifer Haselwood
Publicity: Deborah Vincent
Communications: T. J. Strevals
Vespers: Chad Higgins
International: Faith Nkosi
Married Students: Harold Adams
Revival Team Coordinator: Brian Drury
Sponsor: Mr. Dan Flanagan

Baptist Young Women

President: Deborah Vincent

Collegiate Chorale

Math and Science Club

Phi Beta Lambda

President: Wayne Goodin
Vice President: Mike Harris
Secretary: Stephanie Mullins
Treasurer: Kelly Henderson
Reporter: Robin Emerson
Historian: Melissa Sprowles
Parliamentarian: Valerie Mills
Sponsor: Ms. Shirley Risen

Senior Class Officers

President: Harold Adams
Vice President: Deborah Vincent
Secretary: Cindy Crowder
Treasurer: Kathlin McCann
Sponsor: Sylvia Morris

Sigma Zeta

President: Ritchie Kessler
Vice President: Sonya Wilcoxson
Secretary/Treasurer: Deanna Scott
Historian: Christie Anderson
Sponsor: Dr. Frank Cheatham
Sponsor: Dr. Milton Rogers

Student Foundation

President: Margie Crawford
Vice President: Kathlin McCann

Student Government Association

President: Nate Adams
Vice President: Dan Nikolich
Secretary: T. J. Strevals
Treasurer: Amy Harris
Activity Coordinator: Kathlin McCann

Church Music Conference

President: Rick Wiggington
Vice President: Steve Bristow
Secretary/Treasurer: Donna Rice
Sponsor: Dr. Ken Martin

Fellowship for Christian Ministries

President: Tom Burton
Vice President: Eric Sturgill
Secretary/Treasurer: Shannon Blackburn
Sponsor: Dr. Jerry Gibbons

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

President: Mike Mason
Vice President: Cortni Crews
Secretary/Treasurer: Jackie Prather
Sponsor: Mr. Haywood Riner

Freshman Class

President: Eric Graves
Vice President: Mosi Tafao
Secretary: Amy Blumenstock
Treasurer: Tammy Roy

Harlequins

President: Paul Barnes
Vice President: Tammie Gibson
Secretary/Treasurer: Marcie Cottrell
Historian: Stephanie Dolph
Sponsor: Mr. Russ Mobley

Junior Class

President: Vernon Billups
Vice President: Todd Armes

Maple Trail

Editor-in-Chief: Kathy Akridge
Sponsor: Dr. Robert Doty

Music Educators National Conference

President: David Tinnell
Vice President: Kathy Price
Secretary/Treasurer: Becky Adams
Sponsor: Mr. Robert Gaddis

Society of Scribblers

President: Cymboline Jones
Vice President: Dan Hamm
Secretary: Katy Allison
Sponsor: Dr. Shirley Meece

Sophomore Class

President: Neil Thompson
Vice President: Stephanie Dolph
Secretary: Rhonda Caulk
Treasurer: Les Chadwick

South Hall

Sponsors: Mr. and Mrs. Eric Graves

Stapp Hall

President: Renee Poulos
Vice President: Deana Duncan
Secretary: Sarah Stafford
Publicity: Jana Moore
Art. Chairman: Amy Harris
Dev. Chairman: Karen Graves
Sponsor: Theresa Hendrickson

Student National Education Association

President: Jennifer Haselwood
Vice President: Kelly Burnett
Secretary: Susie Bishop
Sponsor: Dr. Drewry Meece

The Campus Tymes

Sponsor: Mr. Stan McKinney

Graduation

On Saturday, May 13, at the Campbellsville Baptist Church, the Thirtieth Annual Commencement Exercises were held. Ninety-seven graduates were given degrees from the college and the degrees were conferred by Dr. Ken Winters, president of the college.

The day actually began at 10:00 for the graduates as that was the time that the Baccalaureate Exercises began. Next there was the Senior Luncheon in the cafeteria and then the final step, the Commencement Exercises at 3:00 at the church.

This was the beginning of the future for the graduates as they were put into the real world and the working class of society. That in itself proved that "Things Were Looking Up."

Speaking from his heart, Dr. Ken Winters addresses the graduates, their families, faculty members, and staff.

Anxiously waiting for the proceedings to start, Wayne Goodin and Annette Clark reminisce about the good times.

Lending a helping hand to Ms. Linda Cundiff, Mrs. Donna Pirouz makes herself useful before the commencement.

All photos courtesy of PR

Filing into the church, the graduates hold many expressions on their faces when thinking of what is yet to come.

Discussing what will happen when they walk out of the church, these graduates seem to have it all planned out.

All photos by Dr. Robert Doty

Wishing the students well are Dr. Kenneth Winters and Dr. W. R. Davenport, former president of the college.

Saying goodbye to their families was just one of the unpleasantries of going on tour.

Anxiously waiting to board the bus, these Chorale members take time out to joke around.

Smiling with joy, Dr. Kenneth Winters enjoys another "first" in his career as he helps the Chorale load their luggage onto the bus.

Collegiate Chorale's European Tour

Loading the bus, the members of the Collegiate Chorale anticipate the European tour.

On May 15, the Collegiate Chorale departed for a two-week tour of Europe, which ended on May 30. They had worked raising money all year long and had greatly anticipated the trip for the whole year.

The Chorale completed the tour after having given numerous concerts, and after having sightseen the bigger cities of Europe. The group left the college campus via bus and then finished off by flying into the European countries. The Chorale was under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Martin but also had other people go along as chaperones. Those touring with the group included: Ms. Sylvia Morris, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence, Ms. Sallie Alexander, Dr. and Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mr. Robert Gaddis, and Dr. Robert Doty.

The group toured many places of interest in Europe, including Michelangelo Park just to name one. The organization used the tour as a learning experience with their singing and with the historic places. All in all, the Chorale benefited from the tour, which was a "one of a kind."

Bidding good wishes to the Chorale, these faculty and staff members watch as they start loading their luggage.

Happily talking, the members say goodbye to their friends and family before going on tour.

Honors and Awards

Honor Graduates

Summa Cum Laude

Sondra Gail Carman
Margie Michele Crawford
Colleen Collins O'Banion
Laura Lea Smothers
Harold Alan Watts

Magna Cum Laude

Charles Edward Hamlin
Amy Jo Harris
Joyce Bennett Read
Deanna Renee Judd Scott

Cum Laude

Kathlin Elaine McCann
Stephanie Dawn Mullins
Tia Marie Nance
Mary Anna Russell
Bonnie Dell Purdom Smothers

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges

Wendy Michelle Chesser
Annette Smith Clark
Margie Michele Crawford
Charles Edward Hamlin
Amy Jo Harris
Joe Thomas Kearney
Kathlin Elaine McCann
Colleen Collins O'Banion
Jo Lynn Shipp
Laura Lea Smothers
Sarah Jane Stafford
Deborah Michelle Vincent
Sonya Michelle Wilcoxson

Special Awards

Miss Campbellsville College ..... Sonya Michelle Wilcoxson
Mr. Campbellsville College ..... Charles Edward Hamlin
Valedictorian ..... Sarah Jane Stafford
Salutatorian ..... Colleen Collins O'Banion
Business and Professional Women's Award ..... Sonya Michelle Wilcoxson
D. P. Curry Award ..... Annette Smith Clark
Marshall Lyon Award ..... George H. Robertson
Rotary Award ..... Charles Edward Hamlin

Divisional Awards

Art ..... Jo Lynn Shipp
Joe Thomas Kearney
Biology ..... Richie Kessler
Business and Economics ..... Michael Harris
Stephanie Mullins
Computer Information Systems ..... Sonya Wilcoxson
Drama ..... Julianne Goins
Elementary Education ..... Sondra G. Carman
Colleen Collins O'Banion
English ..... Sarah Jane Stafford
Health and Physical Education ..... Mike Pollock
History ..... Sarah Jane Stafford
Mathematics ..... Deanna Scott
Political Science ..... Margie Michele Crawford
Psychology ..... Marian Lea Braden
Recreation ..... Virgil Parker
Religious Education ..... Charles Edward Hamlin
Social Work ..... Joyce Ann Read

Distinguished Alumni Award

Clifford Edward Hutchinson
Sarah S. Hutchinson

Honorary Alumnus Awards

James E. Jones
Jennie Stotts

Things Are Looking Up For the Future

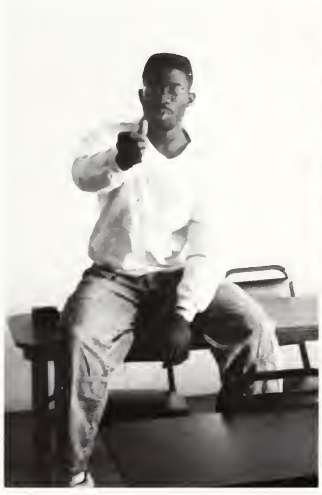
Well, the end of the school year rapidly approached. With the end of year came the thoughts of Summer, fun, rest, swimming, working, and just having a good time. However, it did mean leaving your friends and not seeing them for three months.

Summer had its good points one which was to be able to sit back and re-evaluate the year one had just finished. One could see how much they had grown and changed in the previous year. That could be realized when one returned home to find all of their friends married or engaged and when the old hangout has been taken over by "youngsters."

College changes an individual's life. It is a step closer to the world which all people have to face sooner or later. College is a stepping stone to prepare one for the rest of their life on this Earth. Campbellsville helped us realize "Things Are Looking Up."

Striking a pose in the mailroom, Joe Neal Finley, David Stewart, and Vince Stephens "ham it up."

Completing the sidewalk in front of the FAC lets people know things are looking up.



Giving a "thumbs up," Ayo Olaniyan waits for his next job taking pictures.

Taking out the old to bring in the new is just the first step in the college's renovation program.

Goofing off in the cafeteria, these freshmen and sophomores find a relaxing atmosphere in the cafe.

Getting a little reassurance from his boss, sophomore Jim Sears takes time to listen to her friendly advice.

Posing for the camera, Shane Gabbard and Kathy Akridge take time out from their latest discussion.

Maple Trail Staff

Editor-in-Chief	Kathy Akridge
Staff	Susie Crowder Lisa Harden Julie May Tammy Statom
Photographers	Yolanda Cottrell Dr. Robert Doty Lisa Harden Ayo Olaniyan Tammy Statom
Advisor	Dr. Robert Doty

Colophon

Volume 61 of the 1989 Maple Trail was produced by the yearbook staff at Campbellsville College, Campbellsville, KY, and was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. Approximately 650 copies were published and distributed to the student body.

Body and caption copy were printed in Helvetica Standard with point sizes ranging from 6 to 12. Headlines were selected from the Serif Typefaces Book ranging from 18 to 48 point sizes. Approximately 300 frames of film were shot and printed by Jan's Instant Photo and Wal-Mart in Campbellsville, KY.

The cover of the yearbook was chosen to be a tiger paw because it became the "emblem" for the school year. Script style on the cover and all divider pages were printed in Muse Script.

Thanks to the Central Kentucky News Journal and the Public Relations Office for the pictures, without them the book would not have gotten finished.

A very special thanks goes to Mr. Hugh Black, the Taylor representative. He always gave confidence and the extra pushes that were needed to finish the book.

Campbellsville College is a private, liberal arts institution affiliated with the Kentucky Baptist Convention.